TRUMAN WORKS ON LABOR BILL DECISION NOTE

Cancels News Conference To Prepare Friday Message; Mail Favors Veto.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 18—President Truman decided today to forego his weekly news conference to work on a message to congress on the labor union control bill.

Mr. Truman will send a message to congress Friday, regardless of whether he signs or vetoes the bill.

Elben Ayres, assistant press secretary, said a heavy volume of mail continued to reach the White House concerning the legislation with "a heavy majority favoring a veto."

House To Override

Top Democratic and Republican leaders have predicted that the house will vote to override in event the President decides to veto the legislation. But they were uncertain of the outcome in the senate.

Ayres said around 10,000 letters a day still are coming from individuals, groups and organizations. He did not estimate the percentage favoring a veto other than to say the majority was "heavy."

House leaders definitely expect a veto even though President Truman told reporters at Princeton N. J., yesterday "I haven't made up my mind yet."

He said he would send a message to congress Friday.

A veto would make labor union control the next big issue between the White House and congress, with more potential fights in sight.

Cooperation Gone with Wind

But the "cooperation" about which the Chief Executive and congressional Republicans talked when the session began last January apparently has just about exploded anyway.

G.O.P. Leader Halleck of Indiana gave the tip-off on that after the house upheld by a two-vote margin yesterday Mr. Truman's veto of the tax cut bill. Halleck told newsmen the veto was "the exact opposite of cooperation."

Other Republican chiefs say the same thing. The way they talk makes it appear bare-fisted battling is likely from now on, particularly on domestic problems that will supply electioneering material for the 1948 campaign.

Senate Backing Needed

If the Chief Executive does veto the labor bill, he will have to count on his former colleagues in the senate to back him up.

Senator Hatch (D-NM), a close friend of the President, told a reporter he has had no hints from the White House but it is his personal view there will be a veto and "that it will be overridden."

HOUSE O.K.'S SOCIAL SECURITY TAX FREEZE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 18—The house passed unanimously today a bill freezing the social security payroll tax at present rates for two years.

If passed by the senate and accepted by President Truman the measure will block an automatic $2,000,000,000 annual increase in the levy Jan. 1.

The legislation provides, however, for an increase in the tax in 1950 to from one per cent to 1.5 per cent each against employes' pay and employers payrolls. In 1957 the tax would jump to two per cent against each.

Without the freeze, the levy would have increased Jan. 1 to 2.5 per cent against employer and employe. The present one per cent tax collects about $1,500,000,000 annually for the social security, old age and survivors insurance program.

Under the original social security law enacted 10 years ago, the tax was scheduled to climb gradually to three per cent against employe and employer. But congress has repeatedly held the rate at one per cent.

State's Scioto Plant Plans To Continue

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 18—State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood indicated today that negotiations to acquire part of the Scioto Ordnance Plant at Marion would continue despite failure of a bill defining state authority to contract for federal property.

Sherwood said the state was still awaiting a formal proposition from the Federal Land Bank at Louisville, Ky., custodian of the property, and would investigate the question of authority when it learned just what was needed in the deal.

The state has been trying to buy the property for an institution for older boys now committed to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster.

Altrusa International Chooses Local Woman To Become President

A Marion woman, Miss Ruth Kramer was elected president-elect of Altrusa International at Tuesday's session of the five-day biennial convention which got under way Sunday at Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island, Mich. She is purchasing director at the Sawyer Sanatorium, a position she has held for 20 years and with her mother, Mrs. C. W. Kramer, lives at 482 King avenue.

Election of a president-elect in Altrusa International was inaugurated at this year's convention and to Miss Kramer will go the distinction of being the first one to fill that office. This became a part of the club's policy at this year's convention and was inaugurated following months of consideration by the club members. Its objective is to acquaint the incoming president with the duties of the office through cooperation with the incumbent head. Miss Kramer will become president in two years.

MISS RUTH KRAMER

Boston Woman Elected

Miss Corinne Loomis of Boston, associate general agent, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. was elected president, and Miss Mabel Groseclose of Walla Walla, Wash., and Miss Gretchen Vanderschmidt of St. Louis, Mo., were chosen first and second vice presidents, respectively, The Associated Press reported today. Some 500 women are attending the convention.

The Altrusa club is the oldest classified women's service club, and was organized at Nashville, Tenn. in 1917. Its major objectives are vocational guidance for young women entering professional and business careers and also to extend financial assistance when desired. The mature woman in business and professional fields is one of the newer interests of the club and its members also take an active part in civic affairs.

Altrusa International has a membership of approximately 7,000 women representing some 200 clubs throughout the United States, Mexico, Canada and Puerto Rico.

This year's convention marks the first convention of Altrusa International since 1941 when Roanoke, Va. clubs were hostesses, as conventions were cancelled during the war years.

Takes Active Role

Active in local, district and international Altrusa work, Miss Kramer served as first vice president of Altrusa International and chairman of International's extension and membership committee before being chosen president-elect. A member of the Marion club since 1934, she served as president for two years, later serving as publicity chairman of the fourth district for four years, education chairman two years and one term as first vice governor before her election to the fourth district governor in 1942. As governor two new clubs were organized and four clubs reached their charter membership under her leadership. Outstanding in her term as governor was the organization of the President's Workshop, now an important project of Altrusa. In 1945 she was appointed by Dr. Nina Fay Calhoun, International president, to be chairman of a special committee to revise the governor's manual and to lead a governor's workshop at the executive committee meeting.

Her record in the Marion club is outstanding in activities and interest. She served as chairman of all the important committees, secretary and became the first president elected for more than one term ,breaking the club's policy of a "one term" president In addition to her work as an Altrusan Miss Kramer is active in civic affairs, including the Marion County Chapter of the American Red Cross, Girl Scout work and other local organizations, and a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club. She has missed only one meeting of the Marion Altrusa club since becoming a number 13 years ago.

Others At Convention

Attending the convention from Marion are Miss Kramer, Mrs. Jane Ross, president-elect of the Marion club. Mrs. Clara Walters, Miss Mary Margaret O'Donnell, Miss Ariette Roberts, Miss Mary Florence Schuler, Miss Ruth O'Connor, Miss Helen Kramer, Miss Lydia Ebel, Mrs. Catherine Raub, Miss Irene Reynolds and Miss Ruth Kleinmaier.

Miss Mamie D. Larsh, attorney, of Indianapolis, Ind., president, is presiding for the convention. The 1947-48 program has as an overall theme, "Live and Let Live," stressing action in the fields in which Altrusa Clubs serve. These include vocational information, public affairs, international relations and education and the business of the organization's policies.

Speakers include Dr. George Lawton of New York City, consulting psychologist and author, Miss Bess Goodykoontz, director, division of elementary education, Washington, D. C., Miss Elizabeth L. Packt, professor of international relations, University of Denver, and Miss Ethel Alpenfels, associate professor of anthropology, New York university.

REPORT SHIPS TALK PROGRESS

Tieup Break Thought Possible as Walkout Enters Third Day.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 18—Progress in efforts to settle the American shipping tieup was reported today on both west and east coasts as the union embargo on sailings entered its third day.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson, after a round-robin of conferences announced "considerable progress" had been made.

Earlier, Nathan Feinsinger, a trouble shooter for the labor department, announced in San Francisco the National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards (CIO) tentatively had agreed "on all major issues" with west coast shipowners.

Feinsinger indicated he would seek an early meeting of west coast shipowners and west coast representatives of the American Communications association (CIO), whose president, Joseph P. Selly, was one of those who met here with Gibson.

Gibson said, "several approaches to a solution of the dispute" had been considered and "considerable progress has been made."

Refusal of the cooks and stewards to sign sailing articles brought the first tieup of west coast ships yesterday, whereas east and Gulf coast ships manned by members of the NMU had been immobilized since Monday.

Two freighters were held at Vancouver, Wash.; and Alaska-bound passenger ship was held at Seattle and two other liners were held at San Francisco, and in the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor the CIO cooks and stewards refused to work aboard two other ships. Shore activities remained normal.

Today's scheduled sailing of the United States liner America, largest of American liners, from New York harbor was postponed until Friday or later.

To prevent a tieup of freight cars at port cities, the American Association of Railroads late yesterday placed an immediate embargo on the movement of freight to any port unless consigned to a ship not affected by the dispute.

HIGHER OIL, LOWER GASOLINE PRICE SEEN

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, June 18—Higher fuel oil prices and lower gasoline prices appeared to be in prospect today for American consumers.

Government and industry representatives participating in an emergency conference on the current petroleum supply shortage agreed that such a trend is in the making.

They differed, however, on when it will materialize.

Gasoline always has been a big money-maker for the oil industry. Before the advent of the automobile, it was kerosene. Fuel oil was regarded as a by-product of crude oil refining operations. Soon, however, this will no longer be true.

Consumption of fuel oil is piling up; its significance as a refining product is mounting, and its price will go up as the oil industry devotes more capacity to its output.

As this occurs, gasoline [illegible] are expected to decline. [illegible]

BUYERS SNUB SOARING MEAT PRICES IN OHIO

Housewives of State Balk as Butchers Point Accusing Finger at Uncle Sam.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 18 — Ohio's housewives snubbed the 78-cent sirloins and 49-cent roasts today while meat dealers pointed a "not me" finger at the federal government, declaring Uncle Sam to blame as much as anybody.

With prices rising on the average from five to 10 cents a pound in the wholesale houses, butchers complained of "buyer resistance" as they attempted to pass the increases on to the housewife.

Throughout the state reactions were about the same: the shortage, the majority said, came from a normal seasonal reduction of grain and grass fed beef, plus heavy foreign buying and foreign aid shipments by the government.

Cincinnati prices were reported nearly twice war-time peaks under OPA control and Warren markets were selling top beef steak at 95 cents a pound, round steak 88, and pork chops, 75.

A shortage of approximately 15 per cent of the normal supply was noted at Canton.

One Columbus butcher advised his customers: "Get only what you need. Our prices are too darned high."

Some quarters, like East Liverpool, declared they believe the quality of meat was on the decline despite rapid price jumps up to eight cents.

Industrial centers noted little slacking of consumer buying even in the face of rising prices.

At Middletown Max Stamper, president of the Grocers and Meat Dealers association, reported all meats were up 10 to 15 per cent in price. He gave these typical figures for items two weeks ago and today: T-bone and porterhouse steaks 69 cents and 73-79 cents; pork chops, 65-70 cents [illegible] beef, 35-37 cents and 40-44 cents.

In Cincinnati today a spokesman for one packer said there was a possibility of relief because of the maritime strike.

If it is impossible to ship the meat abroad, he said, it might be thrown back on the American market. That would tend to drive prices down, he added.

Marion Meat Prices Following Leaders

Marion meat dealers reported yesterday that prices here have followed the general trend throughout the state, beef having risen from five to 10 cents within the past two weeks.

Beef roasts were reported selling from 48 to 59 cents a pound while steaks are selling from 70 to 80 cents. Pork chops are priced at 65 to 75 cents, and pork roasts range from 55 to 75 cents a pound

Local dealers blamed the increased costs of meat on higher wholesale prices, in turn caused by a slump in sale of grass-fed cattle which comes annually.

SCHOOL FUND RISE FIGURED

Possible Marion City, County Increases Estimated by Superintendents.

Marion's city schools will receive an estimated increase of $165,000 per year under provisions of the school subsidy bill recently approved by the state legislature. County schools will be in line for approximately $60,115 per year. Estimates were made by E. E. Holt, superintendent of city schools, and D. T. Mills, county school superintendent. Both school heads emphasized that figures are merely estimates.

The sum to be received by the county schools would be distributed among various school districts of the county and would be apportioned according to a teacher-pupil ratio, schools with a small proportion of teachers to pupils receiving a large sum.

The benefits of the bill are to be distributed according to daily membership instead of the system used in the past of distributing funds according to average daily attendance.

Mr. Holt said this morning that the state department of education has not released figures because the bill approved in the last hours of the legislature's closing session has not been signed by the governor. After the bill has been signed, Mr. Holt was told, it will be approximately two weeks before printed copies of the bill as amended for passage will be distributed.

Marion County Men Hurt in Bridge Crash

Lawrence Fleming of Prospect sustained a broken right arm and Donald Carder of Orchard street suffered bruises when a bridge near Washington C. H., collapsed yesterday afternoon as they were crossing it on foot. The two are members of a state highway department surveying crew gathering information preparatory to plans for replacement of the structure. George Orahood of Ostrander, also a member of the crew, was standing near the bridge when it fell into the creek.

They were walking near the west end of the bridge when it collapsed after a heavy truck of the Chillicothe Motor Express enroute to Washington C. H. had passed over. The east end of the bridge gave way followed by the entire structure. Fleming and Carder fell approximately 15 feet to the level of the creek.

The state highway department had planned to replace the 105-foot steel span next year. The bridge was built 65 years ago and carried trafic of U. S. Route 22 across Paint Creek east of Washington C. H.

Strife-Ridden School System Now Ward of Probate Court

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 18—North College Hill's public school system was a ward of probate court today.

The court received responsibility for operating the schools last night as the community's five-man board of education resigned, thus shoving into oblivion a board controversy which touched off a spring strike of 700 students, resignation of 28 of 34 teachers and divided the suburb into two partisan factions.

The school system will remain under jurisdiction of the court until a new board of education is chosen, either at a special or general election.

EX-EMPLOYE TAKES BLAME

Says He Apparently Started Blaze When He Smoked in Building.

Orval Blankenship, 23, a former employe of Marion Plant Life Fertilizer Co. on West Center street, admitted to Police Captain E. C. Mackan today that he set the fire which destroyed the building and contents May 18. His statement was made to police about 2 p. m. today.

Capt. Mackan said Blankenship told him he had been sleeping in the plant and the fire apparently started when he smoked while awake in the early morning hours. Mackan also quoted him as saying that he awoke again shortly before 4:30 a. m. and found the fire well under way.

When he started to leave the building he heard the fire trucks coming in answer to an alarm turned in from the City Rapid Transit barns at 4:31 a. m.

Went To Bucyrus

Blankenship told police that after the fire he hitchhiked to Bucyrus where he had previously worked. He was not employed at the fertilizer plant at the time of the fire, but knowing the building, had gained entrance in search of a place to sleep.

He told police he had been working at odd jobs in Marion and Bucyrus and that he had no home.

A few days after the fire Blankenship returned to Marion to "see what had happened."

Held as "Suspicious Person"

City police arrested him on North Main street the night of June 12 on a "suspicious person" charge. The arrest was made when he was found loitering.

In municipal court the following day he was sentenced to county jail on the charge of suspicion. Police questioned him about the fire after receiving a tip that he might have been involved. Three days remain on his jail term.

Police said no decision had been reached yet regarding possible charges to be filed as a result of the fire. The matter first will be referred to the state fire marshal's office.

Loss in the fire was estimated at $90,000. The plant, now being rebuilt, is owned by George Albert of South State street.

C. E. Deddow Dies in Head-on Crash with Truck Near Mt. Gilead.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, June 18—Clyde Everett Deddow, 37, resident and employe of The Pines, a tourist camp and dining place eight miles northeast of Mt. Gilead, was killed instantly at 8:10 p. m. last night on Route 42 three miles east of here in a head-on collision with a semi-trailer truck driven by Leon L. Grilley, 44, of Cleveland. Harney Wilfred Salesa, 21, also of Cleveland, was a passenger in the truck. Grilley suffered leg injuries.

According to reports from state patrolmen, Deddow was returning from Mt. Gilead to The Pines where he was employed as a cook when the accident happened. He was driving east when the car ran off onto the berm. In an apparent attempt to regain control of the car, he started to return to the road and lost control. The car skidded on the wet pavement and crashed head-on with the westbound truck. Patrolmen said the truck ran over a section of the car. Bakery goods, contents of the truck, were scattered over the road at the scene of the accident.

Mr. Deddow was born July 21, 1909, in Congo, O., to Clyde and Rose Drake Deddow. They survive. He had been employed at The Pines since November of 1946. Surviving with his parents are sons, William and Robert, who make their home with the grandmother at Congo, two daughters, Bonnie and Dorothy, of Lindville, O., three brothers, William and Gerald of Columbus and Thomas of Congo.

Bears Lose To Millionaires at Santa Barbara

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 18—Black bears tought a losing battle with millionaires here.

A black bear had the upper hand locally for the last time in 1873 when one treed a man, his wife and their child for three hours.

Hal Boyle

Since then the bears have been slowly outnumbered by the millionaires and pushed back into the hills where all they get is peanuts from the tourists.

An unofficial census once estimated that 100 millionaires lived here, making it a sort of game refuge for the wealthy. One hired a musician full time who did nothing but full him with tunes on a $10,000 violin.

Santa Barbara, among other things, is also one of the few places in southern California where a man from San Francisco can retire and still keep the respect of his old neighbors.

Balmy Climate Attracts

The chief attraction is the balmy climate of this coastal shelfland between the sea and the Santa Ynez foothills, a strip which the local population likes to refer to as "the American Riviera." They like also to call their sixteen-square-mile city "the Athens of America."

They want to keep the atmosphere which sets it apart from almost every other city in the land—an air of "dolce far niente" or "delightful idleness." This is its chief charm.

So for 50 years Santa Barbara, centered in an area rich in oil and agriculture, has been telling big industries: "go elsewhere — we don't want you here."

Heresy Most Places

This would be heresy in most communities, but the people here want no great belching factories that pattern many American cities with soot and crime-breeding slums. They prefer that Santa Barbara remain medium-sized (about 50,000) and beautiful rather than grow big and perhaps ugly.

Of course, this requires moneyed people with imparted wealth—and they live here on estates of palatial grandeur. But there are also thousands of retired people of modest means, and many artists, writers and musicians. One rich lady has a free camp for hoboes on her estate.

The earthquake of 1925 helped give Santa Barbara its unusual architectural unity. The quake caused between $10,000,000 and $20,000,000 damage, but destroyed 14 blocks of hodge-podge buildings on Main street, the chief thoroughfare. They were built in a California style—low-sloping red-tiled roofs, white plaster or stucco walls—reminiscent of the old Spanish missions.

Courthouse Resembles Castle

The new county courthouse was constructed to resemble a Spanish castle, and a sunken garden fringed with exotic palms beguiles the sensitive prisoners in its jail tower. The Southern Pacific railroad, enthusiastically conforming to the new motif, erected a round-house designed after the Seville bullfighting arena.

The tourist industry is the biggest single source of revenue within the city, and in pre-war years some 500,000 visitors spent $10,000,000 annually. But culture-conscious Sant Barbara has allowed no honky-tonk commercialism of its three miles of city-owned beaches.

A chief beneficiary of Santa Barbara's fondness for retaining the best features of its romantic past has been the pedestrian. Here the man on foot has always enjoyed complete right-of-way at the crossroads.

This ends next month with the installation for the first time of traffic lights—presumably in California Spanish design. Then the long closed season on the pedestrian in Santa Barbara will end. He will have to learn to obey the stop lights or move back up into the hills with the black bears.

Grand Prairie Grange Holds Supper Meeting

A meeting of the Grand Prairie Grange Tuesday night, June 10, in the Grange hall was preceded by a potluck supper. A flag was presented to the Grange by Flo d Barrett, Grange life insurance agent, because of the large amount of insurance sold in the grange membership. A cookie contest was won by Mrs. Fred Hinamon.

A literary program was presented and consisted of several selections by the Grange orchestra, and a talk and demonstration on paper products by Mrs. Thome.

Mrs. R. T. Thew gave a short farewell talk and presented a gift to members of the W. A. Herr family who are leaving for Florida this week. An announcement was made that Tymochtee grange will present the program at the next meeting, June 24. Guests were present from Progressive Grange.

In a report of a program presented at a recent Grange meeting, a playlet given by Mrs. Ray Dobbins and Mrs. Clyde Hinamon was omitted.

New Rent Bill—Expected To Be Law Soon—Changes Controls

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, June 18—The new rent control bill shortly will go to President Truman. He's expected to sign it into law.

Taking for granted it will become law, this story explains its terms and changes rent controls in a number of ways.

The present law dies June 30. The new one starts July 1. It ends Feb. 29, 1948, unless congress extends it further.

James Marlow

The first to feel the effect of the new law will be the permanent residents of hotels.

There are ceilings now on permanent guest rates. The new law wipes them out. (There have been no ceilings on the rates for daily guests.)

In this country now about 550 areas are under rent controls set by the government. In each area the boss is the rent director, a government man.

Governor Appoints Board

Under the new law in each of those areas the state governor sets up a five-man board of local citizens.

In each area the board will really be rent boss. The area dictator must follow the board's recommendations.

These boards can, by recommendations, wipe out all rent controls in their areas, or keep them, or permit rent increases.

(About the only thing the director can do on his own is permit individual landlords to raise rents when they're suffering hardship.)

Under the new law:

Landlords no longer can be prosecuted criminally or sent to jail; area directors can't subpoena their books or records or investigate them; area directors no longer can sue them for triple damages.

A tenant still can sue a landlord for triple damages for overceiling rates and the area director still can get court injunctions to stop landlords from violating the law.

A landlord who wants to evict a tenant, for permitted reasons, can go straight to court and get an eviction notice.

(Under the old law landlords generally had to give 180 days' notice before going to court to oust a tenant who still wouldn't move out.)

But under the new law a landlord can't oust a tenant who pays his rent unless:

The tenant is immoral or a nuisance, or the landlord wants the property for his own use, or wants to remodel it or demolish it, or sells it to someone who wants to move in.

Loopholes Show

Under the new law a landlord can't evict a tenant just because he wants to rent to someone else. But the above paragraph shows loopholes through which a landlord can move to get a tenant out.

Under the law new construction finished after Feb. 1, 1947, is exempt from rent ceilings.

(Under the old law a landlord had to ask OPA how much rent he could charge in a new building.)

Under the new law a landlord can boost his rent as much as 15 per cent if:

1. He and his tenant agree to that in a lease and—

2. If the lease, signed after July 1, is to extend beyond Dec. 31, 1948.

Some tenants probably will gladly agree to such an increase—in exchange for the lease that would extend into 1948—because: If the new law dies Feb. 29, 1948, their landlord, tied by the lease, can not raise them further although other landlords everywhere will be free to charge any amount.

Ringing in Ears

Head noises or ringing in the ears—called tinnitus by the doctor—is not a disease. It is symptom which may be brought on by a wide variety of conditions and what is more, it may even be due to disorders not affecting the ear itself.

For instance, heart and blood vessel disorders, abnormal blood pressure and even hardening of the arteries in the brain may all be responsible for a persistent and troublesome ringing in the ears. Tumor of the brain may have the same effect. So may certain digestive disturbances, mental disorders, and allergy or oversensitiveness to certain foods or drugs.

On the other hand, the cause may often be found in the ears themselves. Hard packed wax in the outer ear canal, middle-ear inflammation, damage to the auditory nerve and blocking of the Eustachian tube which leads from the throat to the middle ear are among the things which cause a ringing sensation in the ears.

With such a great variety of possible causes, it is no wonder that search must first be made for the one responsible in any particular case. This involves a thorough examination and study of each patient by the doctor.

Moreover, there is no single drug sufficient to control tinnitus. The giving of large doses of vitamins, according to Dr. Edmund Prince Fowler of New York City, may in some cases aggravate the condition. On the other hand, if there is a deficiency of secretion from such glands as the thyroid gland in the neck, the use of thyroid extract may be effective.

When the tinnitus is due to a disturbance of the Eustachian tube, inflations of the tube are often helpful. Inflation consists of blowing air through the tube. It is quite a simple procedure. It may be necessary to carry out the treatment three or more times a week. Dr. Fowler believes the patient can be taught to carry out such inflations himself before and after meals, on arising in the morning and at bedtime.

Tinnitus in itself does not mean that the patient is losing his hearing. It is possible to measure the degree of tinnitus and thus to determine from time to time whether the condition is getting better or worse. Such measurements are often reassuring to the patient and help eliminate his fear of impending deafness.

Ringing in the ears is not a serious disorder but of course it may be most troublesome and steps should be taken to find its cause and eliminate it without delay.

Famed for his light operas, written with W. S. Gilbert, Sir Arthur Sullivan also composed such hymns as "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and "Near, My God, to Thee."

Galion Rotary Hears Highway Patrolman

Special to The Star

GALION, June 18—R. H. Ott, State Highway patrolman with the Mansfield sub-station, was guest speaker Monday night at the Galion Rotary club meeting at Hotel Talbott. He showed a number of slides of automobile accidents, caused by breaking traffic rules. Maurice Wells was program chairman. Allen Ballief led group singing with Mrs. G. S. Ebert at the piano.

Floyd Dent of Mansfield, Boy Scout executive of the Johnny Appleseed area and L. C. Beatty of Hackettstown, N. J., were guests.

Franz Joseph Haydn, the wheelwright's son who became one of Austria's greatest composers, taught both Beethoven and Mozart.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rexall Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Russ-Controlled Reich Papers Shake Germans' Faith in U. S.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, June 18—Russian-controlled newspapers in Germany are waging a campaign obviously aimed at shaking the Germans' faith in America by predicting that the United States' economy is headed for crisis and depression.

Spearheads of this campaign are the official newspaper of the Soviet military administration in Germany, the "Taegliche Rundschau," and the "Neues Deutschland," organ of the Soviet-sponsored, Communist-dominated Socialist Unity party.

Simultaneously these papers tell the Germans that the economy of the Soviet Union is "crisis proof" and a good model for the rest of the world.

U. S. Feeds, Russia Bleeds

This anti-U. S. propaganda is carried on here at a time when the United States is sending millions of dollars worth of food monthly to feed the Germans while the Russians are making their occupation zone of Germany pay heavy reparations in equipment and manufactured products.

The Russian-controlled propaganda campaign also seeks to discredit the motives of the U. S. and Britain in Germany, claiming that raw materials sent into the western occuation zones on credit represent a plan to "enslave the German economy to western monopoly-capitalism."

Recently sharp attacks have been made even against the flow of millions of gift parcels of food and clothing which private citizens in the U. S. and Britain have been sending to relatives and friends in Germany. Tens of thousands of Germans always are waiting anxiously for arrival of such parcels and a vast fund of thanks and political good will accrues to the country from which they come.

In an editorial entitled "Salvation from America?" the newspaper "Neues Deutschland" sought to warn the Germans that they "should not be deceived by this flow of packages coming out of a country which suffered no war damage, because that doesn't mean that America's economy is solid."

The paper went on to predict that America was headed for a crisis because "unemployment is rising there and Henry Wallace has predicted that a depression is inevitable."

Headline Wallace Talks

Wallace's prediction of economic troubles for America, made in a speech at Denver May 30, made front pages in Russian-controlled newspapers here.

The speech was used in an attempt to buttress a series of articles which had been appearing in the official "Taegliche Rundschau" reporting ill omens under such headlines as: "Declining Production in U.S.A.; "More and More Signs of Crisis"; "England's Dollar Reserves Vanishing."

In neighboring columns this newspaper printed contrasting reports from the Soviet Union: "Re-establishment of Tractor Works"; "Prosperity in Collective Economy"; "The Non-Crisis Economy of the Soviet Union."

The intended message for the Germans was plain—look east, not west

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when the lower part gets blocked food may fail to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is something to "unblock" your lower intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right away. Take as directed. They gently and effectively "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits all 5 of Nature's own digestive juices to mix better with your food. You get genuine relief from indigestion so you can feel really good again.

Buy Carter's Pills today. "Unblock" your intestinal tract for real relief from indigestion.

CLASS HONORS FORMER PASTOR AND FAMILY

Housewarming Held for Hertzlers In New Home.

Honoring Rev. E. M. Hertzler, former pastor of First Church of the Brethren here, and Mrs. Hertzler and their daughter, Miss Leah M. Hertzler, the Challengers class of the church sponsored a surprise housewarming and open house at the Hertzler home Monday night. The family moved recently to 492 South Prospect street from the Brethren parsonage on Reed avenue, after Rev. Hertzler resigned the church pastorate to accept a position as field man for the National Reform association which has its head offices in Philadelphia, Pa. His new work is concerned to a large extent with promotion of weekday religious education in public schools.

Members of the class met with the family for a covered dish supper earlier in the evening, following which the open house for church members and friends was held. The refreshment table in the dining room was centered with a low bowl of red and white roses, and a large basket of peonies stood on a table in the living room. A gift from the class and a gift from the congregation were presented the family, together with a book containing signatures of all who were present.

Serving at the refreshment table were Miss Mary Ann Borland and Miss Jean Lawson, and on the committee on arrangements were James Bibbee, Miss Grace Bibbee, Mrs. Margaret Chambers, Mrs. Marjorie Chard, and Ray Ballinger, president of the class. Miss Avis Kint was class gift chairman, and R. L. Young made presentation of the gift from the church.

Others who called included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holler, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark and family, Mrs. H. E. Graham and children, Mrs. R. L. Young, Miss Patricia Young, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kindell, Mrs. Grace Blessing and daughter, Mrs. W. P. McAfee, Mrs. H. B. Stewart, Mrs. Forest Ballinger and children, Mr. and Mrs. S. Bibbee and daughter June, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Young and daughter, Mrs. Marvin Hornbeck and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Willis D. Lamb, and Rev. and Mrs. J. S. DeJean of Tiffin.

Richwood Minister On Rotary Program

Rev. DeLoss Donham of Richwood, clergyman and musician, combined music, humor and philosophy in an hour of entertainment for the Marion Rotary club in its weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Harding, Tuesday. Rev. Donham, pastor of the Christian church at Richwood, took as his theme, "Marimba and Mirth."

Along with playing a variety of selections on the marimba, he related humorous anecdotes and stories and concluded with a brief talk of a serious nature in which he advised everybody to be themselves in their special fields of endeavor. The best in achievement and service is not possible if we attempt to copy the methods and technique of others, he said.

He concluded his talk and musical program by playing a marimba accompaniment to singing of "God Bless America" by the audience.

Rev. Donham was introduced to the club and its guests by Hugh E. Webster.

Guests of the club were William A. Brungs, William MacCartney and H. H. McIntosh of Columbus, M. E. "Bud" Mohr of Ventura, Calif., Harley Roby of Toledo and Capt. James E. Brady of Marion.

Boy Scout Board Members on Outing

Eleven members of the Boy Scout executive board were among the 300 who attended the Scouts' ox roast Sunday held at Camp Michael of near Mt. Zion.

A court of honor was held during the afternoon and evening and more than 40 Crawford county Scouts were either advanced in rank or awarded merit badges for past work.

The day's activities included an afternoon ball game, games and contests, the roast, movies and the court of honor which was held around a campfire.

Hugh Hay, Harding Area executive and Carl Bechtel, field executive, introduced scoutmasters and cubmasters who were present for the occasion.

YOUR NEW REGULAR ARMY WANTS YOU TO KNOW HOW VOLUNTEERS ARE SELECTED

OUT OF EVERY 100 VOLUNTEERS WHO APPLY

20.24% . . . fail to pass the mental tests

11.36% . . . . . fail to pass the physical tests

6.42% . . . . . fail for moral or sub-standard administrative reasons

TOTALS

38.02% . . . . . fail to pass

61.98% . . . . . are accepted

(Based on figures for January, 1947, when 35,475 men enlisted and 1702 extended their enlistments.)

Would it surprise you to know that only about 60 out of every 100 volunteers for the new Regular Army can measure up to today's requirements for a soldier?

Only the top 60% of American youth—mentally, morally and physically—can pass the rigid tests.

There are reasons for this which your Army wants you to know:

1 The men we send overseas must represent you to millions of people who are struggling towards true democracy. Your soldiers are their contacts with our way of life. They must be typical of our best.

2 The truly modern Army requires a far higher type of soldier than ever before in history. The wide use of scientific material—advanced weapons and the broad and continuing program of research and development—necessitates a superior man. Your Army must lead the world in the caliber of its men if it is to provide adequate defense in the atomic age.

These are reasons why Army enlistment standards today are higher than ever before. They are reasons why your new Regular Army, although comparatively small in size—is performing its world-wide duties with record efficiency.

In Japan, for example, ours is the smallest occupation force per capita in world history—yet there is no record of greater achievement in such a short space of time.

If you can measure up to these standards, you will find enlistment in the new Regular Army a good career. You will live and work with friends whom you will value always. You will have opportunity for travel and high adventure, and a chance to qualify for Officer Candidate Schools and Technical Schools. Above all, you will have the deep satisfaction of doing an important job for your country in a time of great need.

Ask at any U. S. Army Recruiting Station for full details on the many opportunities open to men who volunteer for three years.

Claims Damages
UPPER SANDUSKY—A claim for damages to his auto has been filed with council here by Warren Frank, of near Upper Sandusky. Frank told councilmen his car was badly damaged, including two broken springs and a blown tire, when, on May 24, his auto struck a hole in the street on North Sandusky Avenue, near the Mrs. Josephine Kirk residence. The hole in the street had been dug for sewer repair. Markers and lights at the place had been taken away without authorization, said Street Commissioner George M. Fleck, but he did not know who had removed them. The case was tabled for investigation.

Train Riders Fined
Allen Moore, 61, and Fred Starr, 48, both of Chicago were fined $10 and costs in municipal court today after pleading guilty to charges of train riding and trespassing. They were picked up by Erie railroad detectives at 3:30 p. m. yesterday at the Erie yards.

Worker Injured in Fall
David Smith, carpenter of north of Marion, suffered a leg injury when he fell a short distance while working about 8 a. m. today on a building under construction at the end of Congress street. He was taken in the Boyd and Uncapher ambulance to City hospital for examination and treatment.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach and the ever-changing blood" need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny, red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that S&S Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the S&S Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, S&S Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on S&S Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. S&S Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

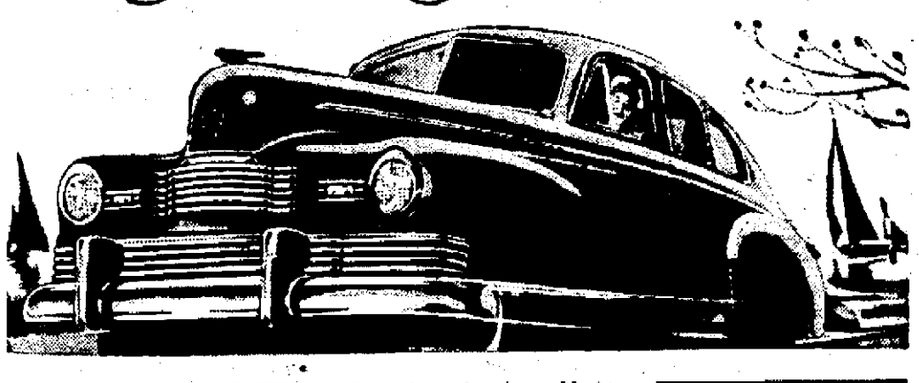
What's Back of the Big Swing to Nash?



EVERYWHERE today, the swing is to Nash. You see it on the highway, in your neighborhood. In city after city, leading dealers are handling Nash.

And listen to the "talk" about new cars . . . the fine performance of the 1947 Nash "600" . . . its big car economy of 25 to 30 miles on a gallon at moderate highway speed . . . its single-unit body-and-frame.

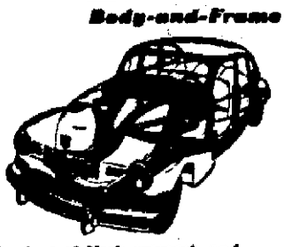
The talk is about Nash Conditioned Air—automatic fresh air heat, and ventilation . . . banishing cold, dust, drafts and smoke from motoring forever!

The talk is about the room in a Nash—extra head-room, seat-room, leg-room—the big double bed you can have in the back.

The talk is about easy handling . . . the wonderful ride of coil springing at all four wheels. And the talk is about value—a Nash "600" is low in price.

This, then—is why Nash popularity is breaking all records. See your dealer now, drive a new Nash "600," or its running mate, the Nash Ambassador.

The Unitized Body-and-Frame



Product of Nash research and engineering, new Unitized body-frame construction sets the pattern for tomorrow. Built a new way, with frame and body welded into a single steel-girdered unit, it is lighter and immeasurably stronger. 5000 spot welds eliminate weak body bolts and noise-making joints.

See your Nash dealer, too, for the kind of modern automobile service you've been waiting for.

For Air Safety

THE PRESIDENT'S air safety board convenes none too soon and has its work cut out for it. Airline crashes cannot continue at their present rate if commercial aviation is to survive. In 16 days 146 lives have been lost and the 1947 death toll is more than double the 1946 figure, despite the fact airlines are supposed to be getting on an even postwar keel.

Obviously some important improvements will have to be made if the record is to be bettered. Structurally and mechanically, the DC-4's, the backbone of commercial service, seem reliable and there is no indication they will be grounded. From 1942 to 1945 they made 85,000 transoceanic crossings with only three losses—two of those probably by enemy action.

The trouble seems to lie in navigational errors, for in six of eight major crashes this year planes have flown into mountainsides. The investigators will do well to look into the miniature radar devices which have been perfected in recent months. Howard Hughes has a small, inexpensive radar set which is reported to work excellently in tests.

Another source of accidents has been inadequate braking power when the plane encounters trouble during the take-off run. This caused the May 29 crash at La Guardia Field which claimed 43 lives. By retracting the landing gear and "dumping" the plane in such instances, it is possible to halt within 500 feet without great damage to the plane and with nothing more than a shaking-up for most of the passengers. However, it is a complicated process to retract the DC-4's landing gear while the plane is on the ground. The board doubtless will consider valuable testimony along this line which has adduced at hearings on the La Guardia crash.

The Harvest Begins

IN Haskell County, Texas, threshing crews have begun the 1947 harvest, which will continue into autumn as the sun ripens the golden grain across the broad reaches of the plains states and on into the Canadian provinces—all the way to the Athabaska river valley on the edge of the sub-Arctic north.

Millions in other countries will be dependent this year on America's bounty, and the harvest will be one of the largest, approaching 2,000,000,000 bushels. Of this, the United States' total will be 1,400,000,000 bushels, or 40,000,000 tons.

The huge harvest will be handled with difficulty. Already Texas farmers have bought up tents and requisitioned empty buildings for storage. Freight cars by the thousands are being diverted from industrial areas to carry grain and by midsummer the nation will have the worst boxcar shortage in its history.

Wheat exports this year will reach 400,000,000 bushels, five times greater than in 1946. With so much of the world dependent on America's prodigality, we shall be inept spokesmen for democracy if we cannot export some political philosophy with our cereals.

The Assembly Adjourns

WITH a typical last-minute rush, the 97th Ohio General Assembly has closed shop after 23 weeks of sessions that ranged from somnolent to feverish.

In the final summing-up of the legislature's work it is difficult to assimilate and evaluate immediately all the last-minute developments. Many controversial measures which hang fire for weeks suddenly are reconciled in conference and disposed of at one fell swoop by sleepy men working under a stopped clock.

The legislature has, however, quite a bit of tangible evidence of its deliberation. First of all, a veterans' bonus referendum was drafted and will be on the November ballot. The legislators also decided to postpone super-highway plans; ruled state judges didn't need a special pension system; and passed a law prohibiting strip-mine operators from leaving the tracts they work over looking like the Dakota Bad Lands. Housewives will have to go on coloring their own oleo, but the dairy interest were up against a harder fight this year than ever before. The last word has not been said on this matter.

Also passed were the school aid bill with $86,000,000 approved as the final figure; the Van Aken labor bill; a measure reducing by $25,000,000 employers' compensation fund payments; an action to recodify hundreds of obsolete state laws. The assembly also ratified the proposed constitutional amendment limiting the terms of presidents.

To the average Ohioan, the deliberations of the legislature are obscure, cloaked in confusion. Sometimes one gets the idea that's the way they are to the legislators, too. Confusion certainly must have reigned in last weekend's rush. That there was so much of a worthwhile nature in it is a tribute to the good intentions of the legislators, if not to their ability to work out an orderly schedule.

When the Pilgrims first came to America, the country's topsoil averaged nine inches in depth; today, experts say, land abuse has decreased the average topsoil depth to about six inches.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, June 18—A Republican party coecker had a long talk with Harold Stassen, who is making a career of running for president and vice president at the same time. He reports that the dual candidate is in a much more mellow mood. Stassen certainly is not trying to establish himself as a Republican Wallace, this party man says. He gathered the impression Stassen has drifted further and further away from leftism. That may explain his visit to the New York middle-road man, Gov. Dewey.

Until this report got around, Stassen was scaring the wits out of party leaders by talking of "a managed capitalism," a phrase which he let drift obscurely into his public utterances without explanation through two or three speeches and statements. They had classified him as perhaps another Morse.

Rates Dewey High

You may be surprised to hear it, but another professional Republican analyst is rating Dewey currently as a 50-to-1 shot to obtain the next presidential nomination. These odds run higher than the polls. But however high they accurately may be, the situation behind them is not guaranteed to be permanent.

The underlying fact seems to be that Dewey has accumulated the bulk of his newly advertised strength largely from opposition to Senator Taft through the Taft stand on labor, although Taft eventually took the milder bill. This sounds somewhat complicated. But those who know how negative pressures work in politics will understand the current talk within those party circles where accuracy is valued more than wishful hoping. A negative movement against one leader may rebound to the advantage of a bystander.

This trend has progressed so far within the party that at least one friend of Taft has been sounding out opinions among party workers around the country to ascertain if this current period might furnish an appropriate time for Taft to withdraw from the race. Some Taft followers thought this might ease the pressures within the party and possibly promote harmony.

Other Taft advisers have taken the position, however, that current pressures may diverge into different channels as soon as the labor bill is out of the way and starts functioning. They have an idea the bill will fall far short of the union promotional claims made against it while it was under consideration.

Effect

Calmer strategists realize that utmost lobbying pressures are built solely for effect. But after the fight is over, the pressuring forces frequently settle down to doing what is practical in the face of reality. Black becomes black again and white reverts to white.

Consequently while party currents are now running strongly toward Albany, in fact so strongly as to have drawn two other prospects like Gov. Warren of California, and Stassen in that direction, it is a little early to reach conclusions.

Among these inner workers of the party, however, little genuine organizational activity is discernable. Dewey has no flock out working either on the hustings or underneath them. Nor has Taft, Warren, the two Martins (Massachusetts and Pennsylvania), Stassen, or Baldwin of Connecticut.

Incidentally, Senator Baldwin is supposed to be prepared to come forward in the fall—or you might better say certain of the old Willkie workers are expected to come forward pushing him—with a new liberal banner. They may try a revival of the old Willkie movement then.

Habitual Criminals

To Get Dish-pan Pans?

An eastern magistrate recently sentenced a defendant . . . to take a bath.

Bread and water for criminals I've heard of all my life, but never before soap and water.

Will shower stalls replace cell blocks in all the better hoosegows as stern judges, following this precedent, hand down sentences calling for, say 20 minutes of hard scrubbing?

Will hardened criminals break into hysterics as the warden, accompanied by the prison ablutioner, comes, some morning at daylight, to lead them down the last long mile . . . . to the penitentiary bathroom?

And when, in police court jargon, the judge throws the book at an inebriate, what'll it mean . . . . a cold shower?

Soon the term, "the great unwashed," may come to refer to honest, law-abiding citizens as one by one our public enemies are forced to come clean with the law.

Who'd have thought to see the day when the wages of sin would be soap?

The Nightmare

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, June 18—There is at least a possibility that the President will ask congress to act in the European crisis on an interim, emergency basis, before the present session ends. In its prevailing mood, the congress appears careless of consequences, and chiefly interested in the more squalid aspects of domestic politics. But the situation hardly permits the United States to remain passive and impotent, until a broad, carefully integrated foreign reconstruction program can be presented at a special session in the autumn. The problem will probably be discussed with the congressional leaders at the White house very shortly.

In order to understand why the President is forced even to consider confronting the hostile, vacation-hungry lawmakers with the kind of request for action they hate most, it is necessary to understand the nightmare that has begun to haunt the informed leaders of the administration. It is very bluntly, the nightmare of a Europe which has largely succumbed to the Soviet Union's present drive to extend its sphere of control. And this nightmare exercises a decisive influence on all planning, for the very simple reason that it is a nightmare which can come true. If the present process of economic and political deterioration is permitted to continue, and Communist regimes are thus installed in Italy, or France, or both, the nightmare will be hard, stark reality.

No Need for Plan

Even at the risk of sounding like Chicken Little, squawking that, "the sky is falling, the sky is falling," it is worth noting the nightmare's salient features. Perhaps the quickest way to convey its flavor is to describe the purely military moves that would be demanded by American security in the event of a real European collapse. There is nothing like a plan for such moves; mercifully, there is as yet no need for a plan. But among those who might have to make the decisions, the trend of thought is pretty unanimous. If Europe goes, the United States will be forced to place permanent military establishments at the present temporary and civilian airbases in Iceland, Greenland and the Azores. The Belgian Congo, with its essential uranium deposits at Shinkolobwe, will almost certainly have to be occupied. And serious consideration will have to be given to the occupation of Dakar, with its command of the South Atlantic.

It is pretty unpleasant, thus to reduce to concrete terms the potential consequences of European collapse. Yet, without forward bases to provide a screen for the hemisphere, without a sure and ample supply of the raw stuff of fissionable material, and without some means to protect Latin America, what would be the position of the United States if the nightmare should come true? That is why the nightmare must now be spelled out, for all to see. In broader outline, it is as follows:

Most Threatening Spot

The center of worst danger is Italy, where the insecure government of Premier De Gasperi, under intense Communist attack, is fruitlessly pleading for immediate American assistance on a large scale. Because the larder in Washington is presently empty, Premier De Gasperi's emissaries have thus far been fobbed off with crusts. Yet if Italy should go to the Communists, a reaction would be started that could continue, in a series of successive crises, until it had involved all of western Europe. France would be endangered immediately; through France, the Low Countries, and so on. And if this spreading reaction were not halted, the United States would be confronted with a new situation constituting, in the words of one of those best qualified to speak, "the greatest strategic defeat in our history." The chief features of the situation can be simply listed.

First, the French-held bulge of northern Africa would follow France. The western Mediterranean would be tightly gripped by the Soviet bloc; the eastern Mediterranean would thus be boxed off, and the vital oil regions of the Middle East would immediately become a Soviet bailiwick.

Second, by the same rule, the Belgian Congo and other European possessions in Africa would fall within the orbit of the new Soviet-dominated European system.

Third, deprived of Middle Eastern oil, and facing a Communist Europe, Britain would have only two choices, the British would either have to prepare to fight at once, or to do an immediate deal with Moscow, begging for any terms the Kremlin wished to offer.

Conflicting Results

After perusing this list, it is easy to see why such startling and arbitrary measures as American occupation of strategic points far beyond our borders are regarded as contingent necessities. Yet such steps, by increasing tension, would also increase friction. So would the cruel choice that would be forced upon the British. And so would the inevitable appearance in France and other western European countries of anti-Communist Maquis which would demand and no doubt get support from this country. The end, in this imagined yet conceivable situation, could only be disaster—disaster utter, irretrievable and ghastly beyond description. This fact is realized by the men who read the cables. It is acknowledged in the planning papers. It is the reason why those who are responsible for formulating policy are disinclined to count the cost.

In the Congress, which the Administration has lamentably failed to educate in simple politico-strategic realities, even men of good will inquire whether the "United States can afford" to help to save Europe. But when it is a question of trying to avert total catastrophe, discussion of the fate of Representative Taber's economy program is, to say the least, somewhat irrelevant.

SHADES OF '48

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, June 18, 1937.

Gaston Doumergue, 73, former president and twice premier of France, died in his native village of Augues-Vives, France.

A treasury tax investigator told congressional investigators that Charles Lawton, the actor, had "effected substantial reductions" in taxes by turning over his Hollywood earnings to a British corporation.

Frances Mae Taylor, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Taylor of McKinley place, died in the City hospital.

W. H. Willis was named president of Dyer J. Bird Post of the Rainbow Veterans and Mrs. E. K. Reed was elected president of the organization's auxiliary at a joint meeting of the two groups.

Mrs. Helen Eberhart was elected president at a meeting of the Woman's Home circle at the home of Mrs. Henry Delbert of Olney avenue.

Prospect Chapter No. 69, Order of the Eastern Star, celebrated its forty-first anniversary and honored its only living charter member, Mrs. Flora Graves and past matrons and past patrons.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, June 18, 1927.

Word was received in Marion of the near drowning in a lagoon at Rye Beach of Patricia Dodd, three-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Dodd of 367 Franklin street. The child fell in the lagoon after wandering away from the Dodd cottage. She was pulled from the water by Mrs. Dodd and a carpenter who was working nearby.

Two carloads of machinery for the new Wilson-Bohannan Co., lock-manufacturing concern, arrived from New York.

Bids for the remodeling of the common pleas courtroom in the courthouse were rejected by the board of commissioners because all proposals were higher than the architect's estimate.

Marion real estate dealers and contractors predicted unusual activity in building during the summer. Any industrial development or business activity which would bring 75 to 100 new families to Marion would create a housing shortage, they said.

Mrs. C. H. Norris and Mrs. Frank Johnson of East Church street returned from Cynthiana, Ky., where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Humphreys.

The marriage of Miss Mary Jean Boxwell of Marion and Tom Rayburn of Columbus took place at 6 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Boxwell of Green Camp. Rev. Herbert F. Weckmueller, pastor of the First Reformed church, read the single ring ceremony.

Parking Tickets Hit Congregations

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Md. — Churchgoers emerging from services at three downtown churches had a hard time keeping their Sunday tempers when they reached their automobiles. Most of them had been tagged by traffic police.

A chorus of protests rose, with complainants insisting they had parked near the three churches for years.

A police official blamed it on a brand new ordinance, adding: "It's highly unfortunate that people got parking tickets while they were in church. But we must enforce the law on Sundays, too."

Why Paper Is Scarce

Uses Found During War Increase Demand.

REASONS why the paper supply situation is so slow getting back to normal are explained in June's Monthly Business Review, published by the Cleveland Federal Reserve Bank.

"A partial explanation of the scarcity lies in the wartime development of new uses for paper products," the article says. "Among the new paper and allied products are toweling, facial tissues, transparent and translucent sheets, many types of pasteboard packaging and various building papers. Meanwhile demand has also increased for such conventional products as wrapping paper and bags, newspapers and magazines, business forms, cigaret paper and greeting cards."

Paper and paperboard production currently is 21,000,000 tons a year, or more than half a ton per family of four. That's about 55 per cent above the 1939 production rate, while the output of all manufactured goods in the aggregate at the present time is roughly 80 per cent above prewar volume, with a proportionate increased demand for paper products. That explains why last year's output of 19,000,000 tons wasn't enough.

Another reason for the shortage is that, except for munitions packaging, the paper industry was not designated as essential during the war. As a result, there developed manpower shortages and shipping disruptions, effects of which still are being felt.

In the 1920's the paper industry's commitments for new construction averaged $16,000,000 a year. Last year, according to F. W. Dodge Corp., construction contracts aggregated $96,000,000. In paper making, the mechanical phase of forming the sheets usually is performed by a Foudrinier, one of the largest types of industrial machines in existence. Cost of one machine ranges up to $8,000,000, so 1946's new orders represent the dollar equivalent of eight of these huge machines. Apparently the industry doesn't anticipate an early shrinkage in the demand for its products.

Prices of paper and paperboard have risen 25 per cent in a year, but the addition of 2,000,000 tons of plant capacity may halt further price rises. On the other hand, the continuing shortages of imported pulp and freight cars constitute restraints against additional output.

Battery Radio

By The Associated Press

Electricity is a widely distributed commodity, but a portable battery radio still has usefulness and value. A new compact 5-tube set is reported to have battery life up to 1000 hours—partly because the dial, instead of being illuminated by a current-consuming lamp, has phosphorescent figures. Another feature mentioned is automatic volume control to keep reception even.—O. S. U. Science and Appliance.

Rough Roads Get the Razzberry

By The Associated Press

RICHMOND, Va. — Bu-u-r-r-r-rp! It's the "razzberry" for contractors you hear, folks.

The burpbuzz sound comes from a gadget known as a "roller straight edge" perfected by T. W. Loftis, instrument maker for the Virginia State Highway Department. It is rolled over a new section of pavement and if there is a deviation in smoothness of more than one-eighth of an inch in ten feet it rolls forth the "razzberry" sound.

Modern Mower

By The Associated Press

Tall, tough grass yields to mowing, they say, with a power mower having an arrangement of whirling blades on a vertical axis instead of the familiar horizontal-roller type. The device has modern features, including a small rubber-tired wheel in front, and attachments that will turn it into a snow plow or other aid around the lawn and garden.—O. S. U. Construction Program

By International News Service

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Pennsylvania's State Highways Department has planned a $137 million road construction porgram for 1947. The department charged with the responsibility of maintaining 40,500 miles of roads and the largest highway system in the nation, reported that funds are available.

Down with Freaks

By TRUMAN TWILL

HERE we are again—back to the dollies play clotheshorse for the photograph and artists that whet the ladies' appetite new getups.

These are the dollies who never look anyone that ever lived because in real all the dollies turn out to be too fat or too t or bulge too much in the wrong places not the dollies in the ads. They invaria are long-shanked, merry and full of vim, long-shanked, exotic and full of heavy-lid come-hither. They are always just right, ne too much or too little of anything.

They are as far a cry from reality as the male clotheshores that posture and grimace getups for men who never look like the mo either. Your real-life male is a paunchy r shapen lump of stuff with taxicab ears, par thetic underpinning, and a bad habit of look stupid, bearing no resemblance to the boy be ties in the ads.

This will dispose of any idea that preju against women has crept into this article any way, shape, or form. The idea is the photogenic and sketchable people who w the public appetite for clothes to bear no re tion whatever to the shape of the ordinary of human beings—men or women.

They do not even bend in the same pla as demonstrated by the way most female mo lately are standing with one leg—the one nea to the camera or the artist—thrust forward w the pinkies turned out at better than a 45 deg angle. This, of course, is to show off the r long-length skirts, which look like someth resurrected in the attic and worn for a they need all the showing-off they can get.

Convinced in our own mind that no nor female possibly could bend an ankle like without dislocating something, we canvassed a dozen normal females of our personal acqua tance to see what they could do. We disove that they weren't made to bend that way were getting fed up with the whole outlan business of being gulled by freaks.

The females we canvassed were typical—t were all too tall, too short, too skinny, or fat. Yet they are supposed to identify the selves by mental sleight-of-hand with dol whose proportions are so perfect they d down baskets of folding money just for let themselves be photographed and sketched clothing manufacturers and the retail d trade.

They agreed it would be a lot better if models were chosen because they looked so thing like the females expected to buy the ups they were demonstrating—the lumpy, g ky, gnarled, slew-footed, pigeon-toed, pia box, string-bean, turkey-necked, egg-hea misfits who eventually must lay out the mo tb keep the dress industry going.

Jap Elder Statesman Declares People Not Fit for Democracy

By The Associated Press

FUSHI, Japan, June 18—Japan's sharp-tongued patriarch of politics—a law-maker in two centuries—believes his people are far from ready for this new thing called democracy.

"Democracy? Bah! The people have got to have some sense first. They don't even know who they are voting for yet."

That statement, made to an interviewer from the cold height of Yukio Ozaki's 89 years, is typical of the patriarch. He is blunt, sharp of tongue and unorthodox. Listen to him:

"Nothing much has changed (since he served in Japan's first diet 67 years ago). Politicians are still the same. They are always fighting for themselves.

"End Political Parties"

"What can be done to improve the government? First, get rid of all political parties. They clutter up everything with their own battles. Parties are no good, especially a half dozen of the like Japan has now.

"I quit parties along about the time of the First World War. Been an independent ever since. Glad of it."

Ozaki is pretty well known outside Japan. As mayor of Tokyo he presented the famed cherry trees to Washington more than 30 years ago. He has been a member of every diet since the first one in 1880. He held cabinet positions so long ago he even forgets the dates.

Ozaki is preparing for the next convening of parliament June 23. It will be his and Japan's 93rd.

Get Frank Advice

Government leaders frequently come to his rambling house in this resort town southwest of Tokyo. They want advice, and the old man gives it to them with a frankness rare in this country.

Ozaki looks sourly on the forthcoming diet session, the first under the new constitution, and believes it will be like all the ones that went before—"mostly talk."

"The people," he says, "have to be taught something about government before they can run it.

"Take my boy over there (67-year-old Yukiteru Ozaki). He got twice as many votes for the house of councillors as I did for the house of representatives last election. People thought they were voting for me. Call that democracy?"

Anarchy If U. S. Quits

What would happen if the occupation forces pulled out of Japan suddenly? "Anarchy, absolute anarchy," Ozaki replies without hesitation or amplification.

The voters who have been returning Ozaki to the house of representatives regularly rarely see him. He made his first campaign speeches in more than 10 years during the Hideki Tojo election in 1942.

"The militarists almost got me," he says.

The other day an elderly man climbed on the back of a truck in Tokyo and proceeded to tell a small crowd what they should do to run the government. Those who heard him said his advise was pungent and direct.

"That was one of my best speeches," said Yukio Ozaki. "The people listened."

FORD, FIRESTONE LICENSE ISSUED — After obtaining a marriage license at the Summit county court house, Akron, O., William Clay Ford, son of the late Edsel Ford, and Martha Parke Firestone, daughter of the rubber magnate, were all smiles for the cameraman. They are to be married Saturday in Akron.

Ford, Firestone Kin Get Wedding License

By International News Service

AKRON, O., June 18 — The names of two of America's most prominent industrial families were listed together today on the marriage license records of Summit county.

Probate Judge Dean F. May issued a license yesterday in Akron to William C. Ford, 22, and Martha Parke Firestone, 21, both of whom identified themselves as students. The couple will be married at 4:30 p. m. Saturday in probably Akron's greatest social event of the year.

Miss Firestone is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Firestone Jr. He is head of the rubber company of the same name. Ford's father was the late Edsel Ford and his grandfather, Henry Ford.

Two Accidents Reported Near Little Sandusky

One car overturned and two others were involved in a rear end collision in separate accidents yesterday afternoon north of Little Sandusky, state patrolmen report.

A car driven by Sterling Pratt, 24, of 357 Mary street, which was traveling north, overturned when Mr. Pratt applied the brakes suddenly to avoid what he feared might be a collision with an oncoming truck which was passing another vehicle. His auto lost traction on the wet pavement. The car was damaged, but the driver suffered no injury. The accident occurred on route 23 about 4:50 p. m.

No injury and only slight damage resulted when a car driven by Glenn E. Bower of near Upper Sandusky collided with an auto driven by Raymond Keeler, 51, of Galion. The accident occurred on state route 294 at the junction of Wyandot county road 62 at about 5:40 p. m.

THEATER TAX WEIGHED

By The United Press

TOLEDO, O., June 18 — City council today planned to consider enactment of a local tax on theater admissions now that the Ohio general assembly has repealed the state three per cent admission tax. It is estimated that such a tax would bring the city about $140,000 a year.

Soviet Russia claims to have boosted its literacy rate 80 per cent—to 81 per cent in 1938—in a dozen years.

1926 Murderer Up for Parole

Trigger Man in Canton Editor's Slaying To Get Hearing This Summer.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 18—Pat McDermott, the red-headed trigger man in the ambush of Canton's crusading editor Don Mellett in 1926, will get a hearing before the Ohio pardon and parole commission in the next month or two, but they say it isn't the same Pat McDermott.

Now it's the Pat McDermott who has found an easier way to check a person's sputum to see if he has tuberculosis. Now it's the Pat McDermott who types the blood of all the new prisoners at Ohio penitentiary and who can locate the right blood for the right job quickly when there's a transfusion needed. Now it's the Pat McDermott who gets even the tough boys in the L-block for incorrigibles to do what the doctor wants them to do.

Pat gets his hearing under the new law that lets the commission recommend commutation of the sentence of a first-degree lifer to second-degree after 20 years. The commission decides whether a man is worth it, then tells the governor. If he commutes the sentence, the lifer then becomes eligible for parole.

Not Out Yet

Pat isn't out yet, neither is Floyd Streitenberger, former Canton police detective sentenced to life in the same case and also due for a hearing under the law.

Pat's pen record wasn't always good, for in 1929 he and five others escaped in a snowstorm. He was caught five miles away. He threw rocks at National Guardsmen during the Easter Monday fire of 1930.

Pat is 48 now. He was received at the pen Jan. 12, 1927. Mellett, editor of the Canton Daily News, no longer published, was slain in the driveway of his home July 16, 1926, in the midst of an editorial campaign against gangsterism in the city.

McDermott and Streitenberger were convicted of first-degree murder, with recommendations of mercy. Ben Rudner, a hardware dealer and bootlegger, was convicted of second degree murder. Louis Mazer, a poolroom operator, was sentenced to five to 20 years for manslaughter and was released in 1934 after his sentence had been commuted.

Made Self Invaluable

As a laboratory technician in the penitentiary hospital, Pat had made himself invaluable, not only for his ability to give the patients confidence in the treatment they get and for his blood work, but also for the concrete achievement of his tuberculosis test.

The conventional method of checking for suspected tuberculosis by microspic examination of sputum takes time and is far from infallible. The sputum must be prepared for the examination and the microscopist must take more time isolating and identifying individual bacilli.

According to a report prepared for publication in technical journals, McDermott's method permits immediate use of sputum taken directly from the patient and colors the bacilli selectively so they can be seen and identified really.

Accepted Thing

The method, making use of chemicals, including carbol fuchsin, acid alcohol, chloramine-T, acetic acid, sodium bicarbonate, and ordinary tap water, now is the accepted thing in the pen hospital and is being used experimentally in other Columbus hospitals.

Peculiarly, almost as much so as the fact that Pat has no medical background, the exact reason for the effectiveness of the McDermott test is not yet known. The solutions he uses seem to dissolve foreign matter on the test slide, but the doctors are trying to find out just what does happen.

McDermott apparently got into the problem when he himself was near death from tuberculosis, partly as a result of his escape attempt. At one time physicians gave him only a few months to live, but he survived to work on the problem himself.

STEEL CALLED CRUX OF GASOLINE DEARTH

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 18—The interior department said today the "steel question" is at the bottom of a prospective August shortage of automobile gasoline and a severe winter deficiency of fuel oil and gas.

Max W Ball, director of the oil and gas division, told reporters steel manufacturers probably will be asked to take part in the next government conference on the petroleum problem

As a result of a preliminary meeting yesterday, Ball said, it is evident that a lack of steel for tank cars and pipelines is the cause of the poor petroleum outlook

Ball, Secretary Krug and experts from the bureau of mines and geological survey presented reports yesterday indicating that motorists may find some of their gasoline dealers out of fuel during peak periods of tourist traffice in August.

Gasoline will be more plentiful with the autumn decline in motoring, the experts said, but winter is likely to bring shortages of natural gas, bottled gas, and refined and heavy fuel oils particularly in the midwest The midwest also may have the most numerous "spot shortages" of gasoline this summer.

Ohio Cancer Probability Reported at Meeting

By The United Press

CLEVELAND, June 18—Twenty-two of 100 women and 18 of 100 men will probably develop cancer Ohio public health nurses attending the health museum cancer clinic here were told

Dr Morton L Levin, director of the cancer control program in New York, said this figure was higher than the one in eight who die of the disease.

People who work in the sun for long hours, and those who work with tar, analine dyes or x-rays, are highly susceptible to cancer, according to Dr Levin.

The conference is sponsored by the Ohio department of health, Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing and the Ohio division of the American Cancer society.

SOAPBOX RACE CAR IS PUT ON DISPLAY

Model Can Be Seen at Y. M. C. A.; Another Due Soon.

The model racer built for the Soapbox Derby meet held in Columbus last year is now on display at the Y. M. C. A. and a second one will be placed on inspection later in the week.

A trial run with the racer was made Sunday afternoon on South Main street by Harold Hammond, 11, of 533 Girard avenue, one of the contestants, and committee members stated the course for the race July 16 will be from the alley south of West Church street south to West Columbia street intersection. The speed attained in the run Sunday was in compliance with the maximum speed allowed and with the addition of a starting ramp that stretch will fill all requirements.

The official helmets which must be worn by drivers will be given to contestants by sponsors, Lions' Club members and personnel of WMRN, and may be kept as a souvenir.

The final date for boys to register will be June 30.

The following new entries, making a total of 22 registered: Mike Anderson, 12, 294 Chestnut street; David Krigbaum, 13, 706 Mt. Vernon avenue; Jack, 15, and Jerry Wensinger, 13, King and Concord avenues; William Wagner, 14, 567 Girard avenue; William, 13, and John Jones, 11, 487 Pearl street; Gene Rieser, 11, of 645 Indiana avenue; Donald Noggle, 15, of 472 Summit street; Harold Hammond, Donald Sipe, 14, and Jack Shoaf, 13, both of Waldo.

BOYS' GOVERNOR APPOINTS CABINET

Winner Picks Advisors for Delaware Aids.

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., June 18 — Nine Federalist and three Nationalist party members were appointed cabinet members by Buckeye Boys' State by Gov. Clifford Reichard today, subject to confirmation by the senate.

Five of the nine Federalists were Reichard's closest advisors during his campaign for governor.

Governor Thomas J. Herbert arrived unexpectedly at the Boys' State Monday night reaching Gray chapel just in time to walk on the speakers platform with governor-elect of the "49th State," Clifton Reichard of Poland.

Although he had previously sent his regrets at not being able to attend, Gov. Herbert managed to reach the rear entrance of the chapel just a few seconds before the arrival of the youthful governor-elect.

Gov. Herbert later spoke to the 822 boys assembled for the "school of democracy" which is sponsored by the Ohio American Legion.

Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert was guest speaker at the evening assembly in Gray chapel Tuesday night.

SCHOOL

refused to renew the contract of Dr. William A. Cook as superintendent of schools Feb. 18 this year. On March 19, 700 pupils of elementary and high schools refused to enter class rooms in protest. The teachers resigned, effective at the end of the term.

Three weeks later, two private elementary schools were organized by a partisan parents' group. High school students returned to school, still protesting, April 21.

In 1945, the statement said, three newly-elected Catholic members of the board voted to bring St. Margaret Mary school into the city school system after the parochial school had been voted out.

"Although the continuing support of this sectarian school is not the immediate cause of the dispute," the N.E.A. said, "it can not be eliminated from consideration of the background out of which the difficulty arose."

Chrysler Ends Strike Of 6,000 Auto Unionists

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, June 18—Chrysler Corp., announcing the end of a strike that idled 6,000 workers, resumed normal operations in three plants today.

Settlement of the two-day strike of CIO United Auto Workers members in Chrysler's DeSoto plant left idle only 1,200 UAW-CIO employes of Continental Motors Corp. and 3,800 Ford Motor Co. foremen.

KILLS TWO CHILDREN, WOUNDS NEIGHBORS

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., June 18—A sobbing 59-year-old father told Detective Sergeant John L. Deas today that he had beaten his two children to death and then shot two of his next-door neighbors because he didn't want to see the children "placed in a home."

The father, Chris Russell, operator of a cafe, attempted to take his own life as detectives rushed into his restaurant, Deas said.

The blood-stained and battered bodies of Peggy Russell, 11, and John Russell, 6, were found in a bedroom of their little home in the northwest section.

Next door, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Wolfe were found on the floor of their real estate office, both suffering from bullet wounds.

Another business neighbor of Russell's, Mrs. B. Poppelauer, told detectives Russell had rushed into her store and fired his gun at her "point blank" but missed.

Detectives took a revolver from Russell who pointed the gun at himself and snapped the plunger on an empty shell as they went into his cafe, Deas said.

At police headquarters, Deas said Russell, alternately bursting into tears and then calling himself, declared the Wolfe's were the cause of his "recent troubles."

"Those people were always bothering me," he blurted out to Deas. "They aren't going to put my children in a home."

Then Deas said, Russell told him that he had killed his children because he feared they would be taken from him.

Physicians at city-owned Jackson Memorial hospital said both Wolfe and his wife, Ethel, might die from their wounds.

As Deas and other investigating detectives put the story together, Deas said Russell apparently killed his children and then, "beserk, rushed into Wolfe's adjoining office and shot the couple."

WOMAN UNCONSCIOUS AFTER AUTO COLLISION

Mrs. Dan Tatman Recovers with Slight Injury.

Mrs. Dan Tatman of 132½ East Farming street was knocked unconscious in an automobile accident on East Center street last night. She recovered in a few moments and was not seriously injured. She was riding in the back seat in a car driven by Mrs. Leona Barnhard of 786 Bennett street. The car was struck from the rear by an auto driven by Ralph J. Kunkle of 901 East Church street, police said. Both were going east on East Center street and Kunkle told police he was blinded by the headlights of an approaching truck causing him to drive into the Barnhard car. The front of the Kunkle and the rear of the Barnhard car were damaged.

Another minor auto accident occurred on the parking lot at the rear of Hotel Harding at 10:50 last nigh. Ray V. Sowers of 911 Universal street was backing out of the parking lot when he struck the side of a parked car owned by Lou Shadsker of 375 Park boulevard, a city patrolman. The left door of the parked car was damaged.

Additional Workers Asked in Flood Fight

By The Associated Press

OAKVILLE, Ia., June 18—Appeals were made for additional troops and volunteer workers to fight the flood waters of the Iowa river which approached a record height of 16.5 feet today, forcing evacuation of many of the community's 400 residents.

Children and the aged in this southeast Iowa town were removed from their homes last night. Guardsmen were sent to the flooded areas from Des Moines and Newton.

Col. W. N. Leaf of the Rock Island, Ill., district army engineers, warned that levees on the Mississippi river had been weakened by last week's floods and urged residents in four counties to flee to higher ground. Counties were Marion in Missouri and Adams, Pike and Calhoun counties near Quincy, Ill.

Visiting Groups At Youth Rally Here

Groups of young people from Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren church and from Upper Sandusky attended the "Christ for Youth" rally service at Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church Tuesday night. Rev. James Sutherland of Akron used as his sermon subject, "What Are You Worth?" and Rev. Dewey Long of Wagram, song leader, sang as a solo, "I'd Rather Have Jesus." Don Sutherland of Marion, brother of the speaker, offered prayer. Scripture was verses from the sixth chapter of Matthew.

Rev. Sutherland said "Worth is judged by the quality, not by the quantity of life. What are you worth to others? How much are you worth to your family? How much are you worth to your church? Above all, what are you worth in the eyes of Christ? Christ alone can give value to your life and mine.

"There are a great many things in life that can take the ring out of life. The quality is rooted and grounded by the Lord Jesus Christ in your life and mine.

"Have you found Him as a Saviours? You can find Him if you will yield to Him."

Services will continue the rest of this week with the exception of Saturday night, at 8. There is a young people's choir each evening.

INDUSTRIAL DEMAND LIFTS STOCK MARKET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 18—Demand for leading heavy industry shares gave the stock market a life from its irregular course today.

Although many laggards persisted, motors, steels, farm implements and rubbers moved ahead. Near the fourth hour gains ranging to more than a point were mingled with a wide scattering of declines, especially in rails and utilities.

Some bidding was attributed by brokers to belief that after two uneven sessions many sections of the list were ready to resume a recovery more, and to expressions of cautious optimism over prospects of avoiding a long coal shutdown.

Chrysler attained a new 1947 high. Also gaining were General Motors, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Youngstown Sheet, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, Armour, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Deere, Oliver Corp., J. I. Case, Douglas Aircraft, International Nickel and Johns-Manville. Packard Motor Car was active at a fractional decline. American Telephone touched another 1947 low, and others were on the offside included Great Northern preferred, Caterpillar Tractor and Philip Morris.

Baseball Association Sets Mansfield Meeting

By The Associated Press

KENT, O., June 18—The annual meeting of the Ohio Amateur Baseball association will be held at Mansfield City hall on June 29, C. O. Brown, president of the American Baseball Congress, announced today.

The site of the annual tournament will also be determined at the meeting. Winners of seven district tournaments will compete for the right to represent Ohio in the national amateur tournament of the American Baseball Congress at Battle Creek, Mich., in September.

The Ohio association is open to amateur leagues throughout the state.

Herbert To Appoint Three This Month

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 18 — A new state liquor director, health director and liquor board member will be named before sine die adjournment of the legislature June 30, Gov. Thomas J. Herbert indicated today.

"I have asked senate leaders to have a quorum back here June 30 so it can act upon the appointments," he said.

Resignations by Stanley B. Cofall of Cleveland as state liquor director and by Dr. Roger Heering as state health director and the recent death of William F. Hess of Cincinnati made the appointments necessary.

CURLEY STILL CRITICAL

By The Associated Press

COHASSET, Mass., June 18—Mayor James M. Curley of Boston was reported today still in a critical condition even though he had a "better night" as Curley's attorneys moved to gain at least a temporary stay of his 6 to 18 months jail sentence because of ill health.

SENATE TRACKS RUSSIAN MARKS

Want To Know How, Why Soviets Were Given U. S. Currency Plates.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 18—Senators on the trail of multi-million dollar American bookkeeping losses in Russian-printed German marks demanded to know today:

1. What official handed over to the Russians on April 18, 1944, the engraved plates from which the so-called "invasion marks" were printed by Soviet occupation authorities.

2. Who allowed American army finance officers to accumulate $380,000,000 worth more of the German and Japanese invasion currencies than congress had provided funds to redeem.

Bridges Demands Answers

Senator Bridges (R-NH) said he wanted answers to these questions from officials of the war, state and treasury departments at a public hearing set for 1 p. m. EST.

Howard C. Petersen, assistant secretary of state since 1945, told Bridges and other members of the three senate committees yesterday that he could not supply the answers.

Petersen conceded under questioning yesterday that army finance officers had "converted" some $380,000,000 worth of various foreign currencies into American dollars "in excess" of funds provided by congress.

But he insisted this would not cost the taxpayers anything because the money is being handed back in Germany and Japan in exchange for supplies, services and relief of the Red Cross and other agencies and individuals.

Black Market Blamed

Petersen said some $250,000,000 of this excess was in German marks. He added that most of it resulted from "black market" operations in which Americans traded watches, cigarets and other war-scarce goods for fistfulls of the invasion money, much of it in the hands of Red army troops.

To committee suggestions that a check be made into money orders sent home and into all extra payments through military channels, Richards and other witnesses said this would mean looking up "millions" of records.

They said that in addition to black market operations card and dice games netted some soldiers thousands of dollars.

TRUMAN LAUDS DIP IN TRAFFIC DEATHS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 18—President Truman today applauded a "sharp and gratifying decline" in the nation's traffic casualties but called on highway users and officials to reduce still further the "appalling" annual toll.

"We have won a major victory in the campaign against carelessness," said Mr. Truman in an address prepared for the opening session of his second highway conference.

Noting that at least 6,500 lives were saved last year as measured against "the black record" of prewar 1941, when 40,000 fatalities occurred, Mr. Truman declared the safety campaign is "well started, but it is by no means done."

"Last year 33,500 men, women and children died as a result of highway accidents, and well over 1,000,000 were injured," he said. "That is a tribute to inefficiency this nation can not afford to pay."

Mr. Truman urged improvements in the state licensing of drivers.

Uniform license systems which eliminate the "dangerously unfit and the dangerously irresponsible from our streets and highways," he said, are a basic weapon in the war on accidents.

The federal-state development of traffic arteries under the highway act of 1944 will make a permanent contribution to accident prevention, Mr. Truman predicted, along with the driver-training programs initiated at last year's safety meeting.

The President reported that motor vehicles traveled nearly 350 billion miles last year in the United States, the greatest mileage in history.

RECEIVE WORD OF DEATH

R. H. Robinson of 347 Summit street, president of the Marion Glass Mfg. Co., received word last night of the sudden death of Duncan G. Curtis, 46, president of Duncan G. Curtis, Inc., on Fifth avenue in New York City. He suffered a heart attack yesterday afternoon while on a subway, and was pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital at 4:30. Mr. Curtis was the New York representative of the local glass company and had visited at the plant on Leader street here a number of times. Five Boys Held For City Park Burglary

Five boys ranging in ages from 9 to 15 are in the Marion county detention home today charged by police with a break-in at the concession stand at Lincoln park sometime after 5 p. m. yesterday.

Police have recovered part of the $15 worth of candy, chewing gum and pop taken. The loot was found on Leader street near the Universal Cooler plant, wrapped in a raincoat. After questioning the boys admitted other thefts and the police found several small articles taken from other stores in Marion.

Entrance to the concession stand was gained by breaking a lock and prying loose the let-down door.

The five boys will be given a hearing before Judge Paul Smith, serving as juvenile court judge in the absence of Judge Gast.

CHURCH MOVES TO OUST MICH. PASTOR

By The Associated Press

ROSE CITY, Mich., June 18—Officials of the Rose City Methodist church moved today to secure the removal of Rev. Cecil H. Scott, crusading pastor.

Two church trustees, appointed last night as official representatives of four of the seven members of the trustee board, headed for Saginaw to confer with Dr. Frank Field, superintendent of the Methodist Saginaw Bay conference.

The action was taken, according to one of the quartet, because the board believed the minister should be replaced "for the good of the community and the good of Mr. Scott."

Meanwhile village officials, who asked Rev. Scott's removal several weeks ago after he made public charges of excessive drinking and vice in the resort community, completed arrangements to start services Sunday in an interdenominational church.

The village council voted to donate use of community hall to Rev. R. A. Frook, pastor of the Cadillac Baptist church.

Rev. Scott, reassigned to his pulpit here Sunday by Bishop Raymond J. Wade, of the Detroit area, was reported to be having difficulties in obtaining food and water.

While the pastor had no comment on the situation, his wife, said yesterday the water supply to the parsonage had been cut off. At least one store owner was reported to have told Rev. Scott he did not "care to do business" with the preacher.

The Scotts were receiving their water supply today in 10-gallon milk cans hauled by a church member.

Mayor Norton King, councilmen and Prosecutor Melvin Orr made a further study of legal means to prevent the minister from preaching here.

Monday night Orr had informed local leaders he could see no legal action possible since Rev. Scott had been re-assigned to the church.

OIL, GAS

that some narrowing of the price differential between the two products may take place "this winter" if the weather is cold, the demand for fuel oil high, and the supply as "tight" as it apparently will be.

Currently both government and industry officials are concentrating on alleviating the petroleum supply shortage which threatens empty automobile gas tanks, closed factories and chilly homes this winter.

Interior Secretary J. A. Krug said there is no reason for "hysteria" and declared that the government has "no authority or desire" to resume rationing of oil and gasoline.

Fanfare Marks Bowing Out by Frank Hague

By The Associated Press

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 18—Amid swirling spotlights, the burst of aerial bombs and the blare of five brass bands, Frank Hague stood on a flag-draped platform surrounded by six-foot floral wreaths and accepted the plaudits of some 13,000 followers last night as he abdicated the mayoralty post he had held for 30 consecutive years.

Hailed as "the champ of them all," by his nephew and hand-picked successor, Frank Hague Eggers, the retiring mayor stood sternly among members of his official family while the shouting throng punctuated more than two hours of laudatory addresses with frequent bursts of whistles and cheers.

Man Bound Over In Purse Snatching Case

Francis F. Hickman, 23, was bound over to the grand jury Tuesday at a hearing in municipal court. He was arrested June 9 on a purse snatching charge. He pleaded not guilty at an earlier hearing and had been held pending further action. At yesterday's hearing bond was set at $1,000. Hickman's case will be considered with 10 others when the grand jury meets Thursday.

EUROPEAN ECONOMIC COMMISSION SET UP

By The Associated Press

PARIS, June 18—France and Britain agreed today to convoke a European economic commission "within the framework" of the United Nations economic commission for Europe to implement Secretary of State Marshall's offer of U. S. aid.

The French cabinet then voted formal approval of the French-British alliance, signed this spring in Dunkerque. The alliance provides for the closest possible economic cooperation.

A cabinet spokesman said France and Britain would jointly invite Russia today to participate in the new commission's work. Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and British Foreign Secretary Bevin reached the agreement to convoke the new commission in conversations here and the French cabinet immediately approved.

The cabinet spokesman said the creation of the European commission had been determined on the basis of French proposals to place reconstruction plans in the hands of several technical committees, dealing with such problems as transportation, food, power, steel, iron and machinery.

Benjamin V. Cohen, U. S. state department counsellor, said in an address last week that $24,000,000,000 assistance would be needed to succor Europe during the next four years.

The cabinet spokesman said the European economic commission would work "within the framework" of the UN economic commission for Europe, established earlier at Geneva. He explained that the UN commission is largely a planning board and that the new commission would be an operational and functional organization.

BOX CAR CRISIS NEAR END

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 18—The Association of American Railroads said today the end of the freight car shortage is in sight. Warren C. Kendall, chairman of the association's car service division, said the railroads have "assurances" that materials "will shortly be available for building as many as 10,000 new cars per month."

O. S. U. Dean Warns Professional School Admissions Blocked

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, June 18—Junior Dean William S. Guthrie of Ohio State university's college of arts and sciences today warned that less than one-quarter of the students wishing to enter professional schools will be admitted in the next few years.

Dean Guthrie, who based his predictions on a nationwide survey, said students would be wise to select an alternative course of study—just in case.

"Somewhere between 75 and 90 per cent of the eligible qualified pre-professional students will never be admitted to their chosen professional schools," he said. "It is becoming the critical problem in education today."

Guthrie said there are too few openings in the country's accredited medical, dental and veterinary schools for eligible and qualified students. Pupils low in scholarship don't have a chance, he said.

He pointed out that there are 73,281 applications filed now for 6,233 openings next fall in 77 schools and colleges of medicine. The situation is the same in other fields. And he warned that when the present freshman crowd becomes eligible for professional studies in two or three years, there will be even more applicants waiting in line.

Guthrie said the answer probably would be to improve selection techniques to emphasize alternate career choice so pupils rejected will not be stranded at the end of the preparatory work. Students then would be redirected into the standard curricula which should be designed to fit interests and abilities.

Legislative Heads Sign 94 Acts, Resolutions

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., une 18—House Speaker William O'Neill (R-Washington, and Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert today will sign 94 acts and resolutions passed by the 97th general assembly.

The signed bills then will go to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert for his signature or veto prior to the legislature's scheduled sine die adjournment June 30.

Included in the bills being sent to the governor are the $550,000,000 biennial appropriations measure; the $129,000,000 capital improvements legislation; the Daniels-Cramer school subsidy bill, and the strip mining and Van Aken labor control acts.

Yesterday, Herbert said that he had not yet decided what action he would take on the Van Aken labor measure.

UNION COUNTY TESTS CONTOUR

Corn Yield Increase To Be Determined from New Type Planting.

Actual field tests to determine corn yield increases resulting from cultivation vs. up-an-down-hill planting will be made in Union county this summer, it was announced following a meeting of the Union Soil Conservation District board of supervisors Monday night in the district office in the postoffice building.

A resolution establishing the trials, which will be conducted on the Ralph Herd, Thurman Skidmore, and Paul Herd farms, all in the vicinity of Raymond, was passed by the board following a talk by H. E. Hecker of Mt. Gilead, U. S. Soil Conservation Service district conservationist.

Mr. Hecker told the board that on some soils in Ohio and the prairie soils of Illinois and Iowa, contouring alone has increased yields of corn from 10 to 15 bushels an acre.

The Union county tests will be conducted in cooperation with the Ohio Experiment Station at Wooster, the Agricultural Extension Service, and the U. S. Soil Conservation.

Dates will be announced later for an "open house" in various communities of the district to observe conservation practices such as contouring, pasture improvement, woodlot protection, bromegrass and ladino seedings, drainage, etc.

Starting at 7 in the evening and continuing until dark, the visits to various farms in the District will be in charge of Charles G. Phillips, U. S. Soil Conservation Service planner for the district, and the Agricultural Extension Service.

Possibility of an early-September tour to the Zanesville experimental station to study the raising of beef cattle with the maximum use of hay and pasture was discussed. The tour will be open to all beef cattle producers in the district.

The board instructed Frank Greeneisen, County Extension Agent, to complete arrangements for a tour of the Ohio State university farm on Monday, June 30. The tour will be sponsored in cooperation with the district.

Former Marion Man Stricken in Kansas

Word has been received here of the death last Thursday of Merrill Weston, 40, formerly of Marion, in Veterans hospital in Topeka, Kan. He was a resident of St. Marys, Kan., and was in service at Ft. Riley, Kan., from 1941, when he enlisted, until the end of World War II. At the hospital, he had undergone an operation.

Born March 6, 1907, in Kenton, he was a son of William and Pearl Stiffler Weston. Before entering service, he had been employed as a meat cutter here and last worked in Marion at Buehler Bros, Inc.

Surviving are his widow, whom he married in Kansas, and a daughter by a former marriage, Barbara Weston of Kenton. He was a nephew of Mrs. George Fies of South Prospect street.

Funeral services and burial were at St. Marys.

A committee of seven men had charge of serving refreshments.

Galion Teachers To Receive Pay Raise

Special to The Star

GALION, June 18 — The 62 teachers of the Galion public school system will receive salary increases of $456 for next year in addition to the regular increments averaging $65, based on the salary schedule, it was decided at a special meeting of the Galion board of education Tuesday night. M. A. Povenmire, superintendent of schools, said today that this amount may be increased at the end of the summer after teacher replacements have been completed to comply fully with the provision that 75 per cent of the increased state funds be used for teachers' salaries.

This increase will be provided from an anticipated $45,827, which Galion will receive under provisions of the Daniels-Cramer bill approved by the state legislature last week. The additional increase would mean raising the minimum salary for a four-year trained teacher with no experience to $2,050. The maximum salary for a teacher with a master's degree and 18 years' experience would be $2,850.

Miss Doris Somerville was employed by the board as an elementary teacher. She is completing a two-year course at Ashland college. There are still two more vacancies in the schools to be filled, one for junior high vocal music instructor and the other for senior high English teacher.

Four more checks received for the summer playground supervision program were as follows: Kiwanis club, $50; West P.-T. A., $25; Women of the Moose, $5; and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, $5. This brings the total to $972.50 which was contributed by the community for the playground program.

John Moore of Marion, architect, was present at the meeting. Architects are being interviewed by the board in regard to a fall building program.

Gambling Action Left Up to County Officials

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, O., June 18—Governor Herbert believes that enforcement of anti-gambling statutes in other than liquor spots should be left to local officials.

Asked about a current gambling scandal in Greene county and Xenia, the county seat, Herbert commented:

"I am doing my best to enforce the anti-gambling laws with reference to liquor permit holders. I noticed that in Licking county (Newark) a common pleas judge got quick action when he called in the sheriff and prosecutor.

"Local officials have ample authority to clear up any gambling if they see fit to exercise it."

BUDGET SLASH FIGHT RAGES

Rival Parties Dispute Amount of Cut Inflicted on Truman Estimate.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 18 — Democrats tossed out a set of figures today to back up their claim that the Republican economy drive has "fizzled and hopelessly bogged down."

Republican leaders, meanwhile, renewed their long dormant efforts to nail down a senate-house agreement on just how much to try to cut President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The house earlier this year formally promised to whack $6,000,000,000 off that spending estimate, but the senate voted only a $4,500,000,000 saving pledge.

Democrats in both chambers contended at the time that each figure was far too high.

In the house minority party members picked Rep Gore (Tenn) as their "bookkeeper" to keep track of Republican cuts.

Today as the house resumed discussion of the $2,157,869,027 independent offices appropriations bill, Gore claimed "nine tenths" reductions "to date total only $1,875,716,750."

Republicans are claiming more than twice that much.

Gore added in a lengthy statement accompanied by several sets of figures that "purely phony budget cut claims" have reached a total of $2,699,150,000.

And with only slightly more than $5,000,000,000 of the $37,500,000,000 budget still to be considered he continued it will be impossible to reach the goal.

"Reducing Reduction to Begin"

"What's more," Gore said, "the process of reducing the reduction will soon get under way, with the senate adding millions to house-passed bills, and with deficiency measures in the offing to supplement funds now being appropriated."

Considering that $32,238,580,482 already has been approved by the Republican-controlled appropriations committee, Gore asked, "who are the spenders now?"

Gore accused Republicans of "taking the credit for all downward budget revisions made by the President, and giving the President credit for all upward revisions."

Any chance of further tax action at this session apparently died with the house vote to sustain the veto yesterday. But Senator Taft said that if a special session were called by the President for any reason, he would not be surprised to see the tax measure reenacted at that meeting.

Ex-Prosecutor Joins Men He Sent to Jail

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 18 — Jerome A. Nevius, 36-year-old former Clark county prosecutor, was a cellmate today with some of the men he sent to Ohio penitentiary before his conviction two years ago of having accepted bribes from gamblers.

Brought to the state prison yesterday afternoon Nevius began a one to 10-year term after his final legal move for freedom failed.

Judge Golden C. Davis declined to consider a motion for Nevius' probation, filed by Attorney Milton J. Farber of Columbus. During the interim between his conviction and imprisonment, Nevius tried to get both the Ohio supreme court and the United States supreme court to set aside the original judgment, handed down in July, 1945.

Then for five days after the U. S. supreme court refused to review his case, Nevius refused to surrender to Shuman to begin his sentence and had been listed as a "fugitive from justice".

Sewer Discussed By Council at Crestline

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, June 18 — There was a lengthy discussion of the eastern lateral sewer of the sewage disposal plant now being laid when council met Monday night. J. G. Philmore reported damage on his land by the contractor. The sewer committee is to investigate the complaint and report at the next meeting.

The solicitor was instructed to secure an easement to run a sewer on the back end of a lot on Scott street. The clerk was authorized to have all weeds on vacant lots cut if property owners fail to do so in a reasonable length of time. Three dollars will be charged and if not paid will be applied to taxes.

The pay ordinance of $2,695.74 was adopted.

Fatter Hogs To Hit Market

Farmers Taking Advantage of Corn-Hog Ratio To Stuff Porkers.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17 — The nation's livestock farmers taking advantage of a favorable relationship between feed and animal prices are rushing to their practice of fattening hogs to above-normal weights before sending them to market.

Latest agriculture department reports show that hogs are being sold at weights averaging between 250 and 253 pounds each. This compares with an average of 241 pounds for the 1939-45 period.

The heavier the hogs are when marketed, the larger is the total quantity of pork and lard produced. However, heavy hogs produce a larger portion of lard per 100 pounds of slaughtered hogs than do lighter weight animals.

The weight to which hogs are fattened, as well as the number of hogs raised, are governed largely by the relationship between prices of corn, the basic feed, and prices of hogs.

As of May 15, the latest date for which figures are available, corn averaged 108 per cent of parity. Parity is a theoretical standard for measuring the degree of fairness of a farm product from the standpoint of the producer and consumer alike.

Hogs, on the same date, averaged 138 per cent of parity. Hence, a farmer could get a larger return from his corn by feeding it to hogs than by selling it as grain.

Farmers generally refer to this price relationship as the "hog-corn" ratio. At the May 15 prices 100 pounds of live hog was equal in price to 14.4 bushels of corn, for the country as a whole. Thus the ratio was said to be 14.4 to 1. It is generally agreed that a ratio of at least 11.5 to 1 is sufficiently favorable to encourage large pig crops and fattening to medium weights.

Despite this favorable price ratio, however, supplies of pork are short of consumer demands. This shortage reflects a smaller number of hogs available for feeding and marketing rather than any failure of farmers to feed animals to desirable weights. Because of grain shortage last year, farmers did not produce as many pigs during the last half of the year as the demand for meat warranted.

FACES MANSLAUGHTER

By The United Press

FREMONT, O., June 18—Charles Hickman, 94, Steubenville truck driver, has been bound over to the Sandusky county grand jury on a charge of second degree manslaughter. The charge was placed against Hickman by the state highway patrol following an accident on route 20 between Clyde and Bellevue May 21 in which Russell Suor, Pontiac, Mich., was killed.

Union Offers To Prove It Has No Work Limits

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 18 — An Ohio AFL union offered today to submit its constitution to the state if it "can prove that its members may lay as many or as few per day as they want."

The offer was made in a report approved by the Ohio Conference of Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers (AFL) at the conclusion of its 42nd annual meeting here.

Designed to offset what it considered a public misconception of so-called restrictive practices by certain building unions, the report declared "propaganda has been spreading high and wide against labor organizations, and especially against our organizations where they claim our members are only allowed to lay six hundred brick per day."

"x x x This propaganda is very unfair against our organization because our constitution does not prohibit any bricklayer from laying a certain number of brick because he can lay as many bricks as his physical condition will allow him to do."

3 ARMY OFFICERS IN MARION ON LEAVE

Visit at Homes Before Leaving for New Posts.

Three Marion Army officers, two from overseas and the others from bases in the U. S., are home on leave. They are Capt. Neil [illegible] who recently arrived from Berlin, Germany, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sharkey of 667 [illegible] avenue, Capt. James Brady, who has been stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., son of Dr. [illegible] Brady of 483 Vernon Heights boulevard and Maj. William T. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Smith of 351 Franklin street, home from Fort Sill, Okla.

Capt. Sharkey, who entered service more than four years ago returned recently from Berlin where he has been stationed for the last two years. Overseas more than two and one-half years he entered Berlin with the first occupation troops and was stationed in the public relations office in that city. More recently he has been administrative officer of the Rec Center in Berlin. Upon the termination of his 45-day leave he will report to Camp Carson, Colo., where he has been assigned to the 38th Regimental Combat Team. Prior to returning to the States Capt. Sharkey spent two weeks in Stockholm and other points in Sweden.

Capt. Brady, who with Mrs. Brady arrived earlier this month from San Antonio, Tex., left Wednesday for Seattle, Wash., from where he will sail for Alaska. A captain in the medical administrative corps he conducted a school for opticians in field service for the Army at Brooke's Army medical center. In service since early in 1942 he has been stationed at Fort Houston for the last two years. Mrs. Brady, who has been with her husband at the Texas Army center, will remain in the States for the present and will make her home temporarily at Shelbyville, Ind. Capt. Brady will be with the medical administrative corps in Alaska.

Major Smith will return to Fort Sill upon the expiration of his present leave.

Rules Minors' Work In Baseball Parks Limited

COLUMBUS, O., June 18—Attorney General Hugh S. Jenkins today ruled boys under 18 and girls under 21, could not be employed in baseball stadiums after 10 p. m.

Also, he asserted, boys under 16 and girls under 18 could not work in such stadiums after 8 p. m.

The ruling was given W. J. Rogers, director of industrial relations, in connection with the operation of the Cleveland stadium.

U.S. SOCIALIST HEAD QUESTIONS WALLACE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 18—Socialist Leader Norman Thomas asked Henry A. Wallace today in an open letter: "Do you reject the theory that Communist totalitarianism, using the Red army and its other army, the international Communist movement, is relentlessly, patiently and boldly seeking world power?"

Writing as chairman of the Post War World Council, Thomas continued in a letter he made public:

"If you reject this theory, on what grounds do you explain the Russian tactics in Korea, Manchuria, the Balkans, Hungary, Austria and Germany—or the Communist party policies throughout the world?"

Thomas, commenting on the former vice president's speech in Washington Monday night, told him, "with a great many of your specific proposals and with your estimate of the value of a third party (but not if it is Communist controlled) I am in agreement. Emphatically, I agree that peace must be sought boldly on better lines than the Truman administration is now following.

"But I have grave doubts about your own program for peace," Thomas declared, adding that Wallace might "possibly" remove some of the doubts by answering his questions. The Republic magazine, which Wallace edits, said the letter had been received but Wallace had not seen it.

Hardin County Woman Run Over by Tractor

Special to The Star

KENTON, June 18—Mrs. Kenneth Bash, 21, east of Dunkirk, was reported recovering at the Antonio hospital, yesterday, after being run over by a farm tractor Monday afternoon. Mrs. Bash was reported to have been riding with her husband, Kenneth, on the tractor when it struck a bridge abutment and she was thrown under the machine. She suffered bruises and a possible rib fracture.

HUNGARIAN U. S. EMPLOYE QUESTIONED BY POLICE

By The Associated Press

BUDAPEST, June 18—Imre Fold, Hungarian manager of the Allied officers park club, said today he had been questioned by the political police and that he expected to be thrown in jail "within a short time."

Officers at the American military mission said this morning that Fold had been arrested on charges of being a "pro-Nazi" and on suspicion of being involved in a plot to overthrow the Hungarian republic. Fold said this afternoon that he had been questioned at length by the political police concerning certain relatives and expected to be arrested shortly.

The seizure and questioning of Fold, whose club is used principally by American and British military officers, was the first such move by the political police since they threatened last August eventually to arrest Hungarian employes of the American and British missions.

START REPAIR WORK ON EPWORTH CHURCH

Extensive Improvements Are Planned in Future.

Remodeling of the outside of Epworth Methodist church started Monday. This is the first step in a long range remodeling plan, planned for the church.

Charles Cellarius, Cincinnati architect, will draft the plans. He is the consulting architect for Miami university, Western College for Women, Berea college, Ohio university and West Virginia university.

Remodeling of the Van Wert Presbyterian church under his direction has just been completed. Besides his work here he now is supervising the remodeling of the Hyde Park Methodist church.

He is also drafting plans for a half-million dollar Presbyterian church to be erected in southwestern Ohio.

Present work on Epworth church includes pointing it up for painting. Two chimneys which are unused will be razed, windows will be repaired, as will the roof and gutters.

Work is being done by the Stewart Construction Co. of Marion.

LABOR

political parties share that view.

The house and unions, 320 to 79. That is a four-to-one majority.

The senate passed it 54 to 17, by better than a three-to-one tally.

Labor and taxes are bound to be 1948 campaign issues. Wool prices and rent controls may be others.

Two Marion County Girls Are Graduates

At commencement exercises of St. Mary of the Springs college in Columbus Sunday afternoon, June 8, two Marion students were graduated. They are Miss Margaret Ann Luke and Miss Marie Granger.

Miss Luke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Luke of 261 Edgewood drive, was graduated with a bachelor of science degree. Her majors were biology and chemistry.

Diplomas were presented by Bishop Michael J. Ready of the Columbus diocese of the Catholic church. Attending the commencement were Mr. and Mrs. Luke and another daughter, Mary Martha, and other relatives and friends from Marion. In the commencement recital of the college June 5, Miss Luke was presented in two piano numbers, "Intermezzo Opus 118, No. 1," Brahms, and "Poloniase Op. 53," Chopin.

Miss Granger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo W. Granger of the Gracely road west of Marion, was graduated with a bachelor of science degree. She was a scholarship student at the college, and Sept. 1, she will be graduated from the Mt. Carmel School of Nursing, Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus. Her sister, Ruth, was graduated the same day and at the same hour as the college commencement, from St. Mary High school here.

GREEKS PLEDGE UNITED EFFORT

Official Thanks for Aid Promises All-Out Work for Economic Recovery.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 18—Greece promised the United States today it would undertake a "great and continuous effort" to restore order and economic well-being in its country.

The pledge was made in a note expressing thanks for the United States interest in Greek welfare as evidenced by the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program.

The state department made public the exchange of communications between Washington and Athens.

Outlines Plans

The Greek government outlined its own recovery plans and accepted responsibility for carrying them through but asked American expert assistance such as has already been arranged to aid the work.

The notes covered formal notice to the Greek government on May 26, that the $300,000,000 American program had been authorized by congress, a note from the Greek government on June 15 expressing thanks for the "benevolent interest of a great and friendly nation in the welfare of Greece," and a note of June 18 from the United States accepting the Greek assurances.

The latter note stated that Ambassador Lincoln MacVeagh has been authorized to negotiate a formal assistance agreement with the Greek government.

That agreement is supposed to be signed in Athens today or tomorrow.

(Of the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program, $300,000,000 is to be spent for relief and military aid to Greece.)

U. S. Notes Pleasure

The United States note dated today declared "this government notes with satisfaction the assurances of the Greek government that American aid will be effectively utilized in accordance with the purposes for which it is being extended.

President Truman has defined those purposes as being first to promote Greek reconstruction and second to prevent the spread of communism and totalitarian government into that country.

The Greeks said they recognized that the "extensive aid of the United States will not alone be sufficient to meet the large costs of restoring public order and reconstructing reproductive facilities over a period of years."

Accepts Responsibility

The Greek government accepted responsibility for the task before it and declared:

"This responsibility entails the composing of internal differences, the collection of more revenues, the rebuilding of foreign trade, the conservation of foreign exchange, the reconstruction of public works, the improvement of government administration, assistance and guidance to agriculture and industry, establishment of protective labor measures, encouragement of democratic organizations among economic and social groups, measures to control inflation and assure equitable distribution of supplies and services, and the restraint of excesses and extravagances on the part of any segments of the population."

We like to keep you, our good friends, advised of conditions.

That is why, last week, we told you that in spite of the very small space allotted to us by the Star, and in spite of all the shortages in Gas Ranges, Washers, Refrigerators, Electric Ranges, Rugs and Linoleum, in spite of all these, May was the biggest month in the history of our store.

We are passing on to you in lower prices the money we are saving in advertising.

And you seem to like it, because business with us is mighty good this month, too.

Shrine Group Holds Guest Day Party

The annual Guest day party of the Past Worthy High Priestess group of Marion Shrine No. 15, White Shrine of Jerusalem, was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Loretta Fies on South Prospect street.

Dinner was served at 6 o'clock by Mrs. Fies assisted by Mrs. Grace Smith and Mrs. Rose Helwig. The large serving table in the dining room was centered with a huge bouquet of roses, and smaller tables at which members and guests sat had centerpieces of rosebuds. Mrs. Villa Neidhart was in charge of a program which included a reading by Mrs. Smith and response by Mrs. Neidhart, and a special roll-call feature was answered by each one present naming her birthplace. Contest award went to Mrs. Margaret Hall, Mrs. Mary Fisher and Miss Wanda Geddis. Mrs. Eve Hunter played selections on a miniature organ.

This event closed the lodge season. The next meeting will be held in September at the Masonic temple.

Guests included Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Laura Eicher, Mrs. Marie Goodrich, Mrs. Blyss Bonner and Mrs. Ada Geddis.

Mrs. Susie P. Archer Stricken in Kenton

Special to The Star

KENTON, JuJne 18—Mrs. Susie P. Archer, 72, died Monday in the Antonio hospital where she had been a patient seven weeks. She had been in failing health for two years.

Mrs. Archer was born in Dayton on July 31, 1874, and in 1898, she moved to Kenton where she has resided since.

On April 23, 1891, she was united in marriage with Charles Archer, who preceded her in death on June 3, 1938.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Nick Ommert of Kenton, Mrs. Frank Oates of Pleasant township, and Mrs. Alva Gossard, of Alger, one son, Everett Archer of Columbus.

Funeral will be held on Thursday at 3 p. m. at the Schindewolf funeral home.

HERBERT SIGNS BILL LIMITING PORTAL PAY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 18—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert today signed a bill which will limit to two years the time in which workers must apply for portal-to-portal, minimum or overtime pay. The Collins bill was among 11 which the governor signed today.

The governor also signed a bill which will return approximately $13,000,000 per year beginning in 1948 in intangible tax revenues to the counties from which they originate.

Other bills signed include:

A measure to strengthen the police pension system of the state, under which the state will contribute $800,000 annually, a .3 mill levy is mandatory, and the employe contribution is increased from two to four per cent.

A requirement for appraisal of property every six years and assessment at true money value.

Providing for optional closing of banks on Saturday.

Exempting from sales tax meals served employes by employers.

Providing 15 days sick leave for state employes and permitting accumulation up to 90 days.

Permitting issuance of private club liquor permits to units without the three year existence requirement, providing the parent organization is more than three years old.

Feller's Arm, Hefty Bat Lift Tribe To .500 Mark

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 18—Cleveland's Bob Feller continued king of the major leagues today had a string of four straight victories and nine triumphs this year—thanks to his bat and his pitching right arm.

Lifting the Indians to a .500 percentage, Feller fanned nine batters and delivered a two-run triple for the margin of triumph last night as he moved into the American league lead in total victories with a 9-3 win over the Washington Senators.

George Metkovich, the Indians' "mountain man" from Butte, Montana, gave the Tribe its victory with a single in the opening inning. Bill Peck, another "Washington boy" tabbed Metkovich with a single to right.

Manager Lou Boudreau, league leading batter, rapped a double in the ninth and scored on an error by Jerry Priddy before Washington pitcher Dave Vineyard retired the side. Boudreau got the range early, scoring three runs on five hits off Kent Peterson before the youthful southpaw could record two outs in the first inning. Johnny Berardino, Eddie Robinson, Ed Lively and Ken Keltner followed in that order.

But gun for the league-leading Senators was Bob Elliott, the third baseman, who drove in three runs with three hits, one a triple, in four tries.

Bert Haas went three for four and Frankie Hayworth three for five for the Reds, who got another crack at Billy Southworth's fast-stepping 'outh tonight. Ewell Blackwell was down to pitch for Cincinnati while the Boston batsmiths went to Ed Wright.

Battered Reds Draped Over 6th Rung of Ladder

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 18—Dazed and battered, the Cincinnati Reds were draped across the sixth rung of the National league ladder today, recovering from a blistering barrage off Boston pitching.

The Reds flipped off the No 5 spot yesterday as the Braves pounded out 15 timely hits to romp to an easy 11-4 victory. Five Cincinnati pitchers threw "em and ducked.

Red Barrett, the veteran right-hander, was touched for 12 safeties but the only one that counted was Grady Hatton's fifth home run of the season in the sixth inning.

Boston got the range early, scoring three runs on five hits off Kent Peterson before the youthful southpaw could record two outs in the first inning. Johnny Berardino, Eddie Lyons, Ed Lively and Ken Keltner followed in that order.

But gun for the league-leading Braves was Bob Elliott, the third baseman, who drove in three runs with three hits, one a triple, in four tries.

Bert Haas went three for four and Frankie Baumholtz three for five for the Reds, who got another crack at Billy Southworth's fast-stepping 'outh tonight. Ewell Blackwell was down to pitch for Cincinnati while the Boston batsmiths went to Ed Wright.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT, June 18—Branch Rickey Jr. tells me one of his pals about the signing of Tom Brown, the young infield prospect who figures prominently in the Dodger future plans. . . . Brown was only 15 years old when he appeared at a Dodger tryout camp and was sent away with a kind word because he was too young and too small. . . . The next year he returned again and made such an impression that he was signed to a minor league contract. . . . While getting his name on the paper, Branch Jr., complimented Tom warmly on his throwing. . . . Brown replied: "You know I was here last year and was told I didn't have a good enough arm, . . . 'Is that so?' Branch asked in amazement. 'Who told you that?' . . . Tommy grinned, 'Why, you did, Mr. Rickey.'"

One-Minute Sports Page

Baseball Commissioner Happy Chandler says the organized high school agreement is working out very well, but some of the others are beginning to worry. . . . They point out that a lot of clubs would have failed to sign Curt Simmons, the Pennsylvania schoolboy pitching sensation, but they were all sure the Phillies and the minor club. . . . Bobby Locke, who is giving golfers someone to root for in South Africa, passed up the British open to have a shot at George May's big wad of cash in the All-American tournament in Chicago. But he won't play in the Victory open the week before. That won't help current friendly relations between Mr. May and the U.S.G.A. . . . The American Darts Players association is mulling over banning chair-throwing from $2 to $5 to "put the event on a higher plane." . . . If they'd mind a few boots, the crowds would take care of that.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching: Charlie Bell (Reds) Shutout Brooklyn—allowed 11 hits and took the first (the only game) with Boston as he pitched the Braves to an 11-4 victory over the Reds.

Batting: Stan Musial (Cardinals)—Helped with the home run in the sixth inning to drive in three runs and give the Cardinals a 7-6 win over the Phillies.

Former Cub Hurler Pitches No-Hitter

Robert Kuhlman, who pitched for the Marion Cubs in 1944, pitched a perfect game against Sioux City of the Western league as his Des Moines Cubs won 3-0 at Sioux City, June 5, according to the Sporting News. The Western league is class A.

Five men got to first base on Rapid Robert, three on walks and the other two reaching base on errors.

Bob started his career here when only 17 years old and showed much promise even though losing several games because of a weak team behind him and wildness on his part.

Bob went to the Army after winning five and losing four for Elizabethton, Tenn., in the Appalachian league in 1943.

Zanesville Whips Dayton; Newark Blasted by Giants

By The Associated Press

Pitchers held sway during last night's abbreviated Ohio State league baseball program, cancelled by rain at Lima and Marion.

Sandy Lambert, Zanesville's sparkling southpaw, and Springfield's Tony West vied for hitting honors. West rapped a three-bagger and fanned 12 batters at Newark where the Giants beat the Browns, 15-2. Lambert, topping Dayton, 5-4, struck out 11 men and ran his pitching strikeout total to 78.

Of Newark's three blows against West, one was a ninth-inning homer by Ed Perrien.

Lambert might have had a shutout but for one bad inning when the Dodgers fell upon defensively while he was getting six throws of the Ducks bats and two batters on balls.

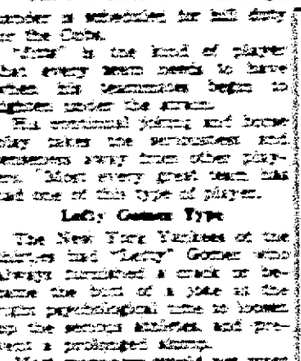
Colley Calls Error In Burbrink Chase

An umpire can be wrong.

President W. Dexter Ekrem of the Marion Cubs received a letter today from League President Colley admitting that Umpire Pasquarelli erred when he removed Manager Nelson Burbrink from the game at Muncie Monday night.

He said that the ump was working his last game in the loop and apparently held a spite. Colley said that the other two umpires had reported Burbrink had done nothing to warrant being put out of the game. For that reason Colley did not accept the usual $25 fine.



Five Man Battle Royal Thursday at Armory

For the first time in many months a five man battle royal will hold the spotlight at the Marion Armory Thursday night. This popular type of grappling has always proved a crowd pleaser to the local fans and from the lineup this one should top the best. Al Pasha, the bearded Hindu who put a stop to the Red Devil's winning streak last Thursday, will head the list with Dutch Schultz, the rough Texan, Duke Keomuka, the clever American born Jap, Billy Fox, the ex-Gunnery Sergeant of the Marines and a new boy from Springfield, Mo., by the name of Eddie Williams. The first man to lose in this mat massacre is through for the evening and gets his expense money, the next two out come back for the forty-five minute semi-final and get semi money while the last two left in the ring return for the ninety minute main event and get top money. Both matches are two out of three falls. Fritz Barlow and Bill Monroe will take part in the ten minute prelim at 8:30. Call Market & Lewis early for your best ringside seats.—Adv.

MRS. ELMER ENDSLEY is about to lose her bonnet, but does she mind? The bear suit is delivered by her son, Jack, 11, who had just pushed the Simpson Center team to the Twin Hills school championship. Jack also scored the winning run as Simpson edged out Doris High of Marysville by a score of 4-3.

30 LIMA GOLFERS DUE HERE THURSDAY

Approximately 30 golfers from the Shawnee Country club of Lima are expected to participate in the inter-city annual tournament at the Country club tomorrow.

Each will be matched with a local golfer.

No handicaps will be given. A point will be given to the winner of the first nine holes and to the winner of the second nine and one point will also be given for winning a match which will be 18 holes. This makes three the total number of points a person can score for his team.

Following the tournament a dinner will be held.

Today the top soil of the course was pretty damp, but not sodden. Bob Alves, club pro, said. The weather today should result in the course being in good condition for tomorrow's activities.

Charlie Barrett Currently Hottest Hurler in Majors

By The Associated Press

Charlie Barrett, who is being hailed as the number one "comeback" of 1947 today owes his success to his remarkable control pitching.

The rambunctious redhead, whose decline from a 23-game winner in 1945 to a horse-collar winner last season caused his banishment from the world champion St. Louis Cardinals to the Boston Braves last winter, currently is the hottest hurler in the majors.

Including yesterday's 11-1 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds, Barrett has won five straight to bring his season record to six wins and three defeats. In his last 45 innings, Barrett has issued only two passes on balls.

Barrett was tagged by the Reds yesterday for 12 hits, but Cincinnati left 10 on the basepaths, and it took a home run by Grady Hatton to produce the Reds' only run.

The upstarting St. Louis Cardinals gained their sixth consecutive victory last night when they came from behind with a three-run uprising in the last of the ninth to eke out a 7-6 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies. A triple by Stan Musial with the bases loaded and one out brought in the runs.

Carl Scheib 20-year-old right-hander from Girard, Pa., pitched his second complete game in as many baseball and for the second time within a week was for the Philadelphia Athletics 5-2 over the Detroit Tigers.

Bob Feller fanned nine batters to raise his season total to 96 and pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 3-1 victory over the Washington Senators before 30,701, largest crowd of the season at Griffith stadium.

The Boston Red Sox registered their seventh victory in a row by defeating the St. Louis Browns 6-5.

PLAYS THAT COUNT

By FRANK ECK
Associated Press Sports Editor

"I wouldn't know offhand the most important play I ever saw but I know the most exciting and most interesting play," says Manager Johnny Neun, now serving his first full season as a big league manager with the Cincinnati Reds.

"It happened on May 31, 1927 against Philadelphia. I made that play against Cleveland.

"Neun was playing first base for the Detroit Tigers.

"Charlie Jamieson was on first base with Glen Myatt on second," says Johnny modestly but in a manner which leads you to believe he's been asked about this particular play one hundred times. "Homer Summa was at bat.

"Well, Summa hit a line drive right at me for one out. I stepped on first to double Jamieson and ran down to touch second base after the third out. Myatt was still running for third when the inning ended.

"That play also ended the ball game. We won 1 to 0 and today it will be the only game-ending triple play on record."

Ruptured Men Get $3.50 Gift for Trying This

Kansas City, Mo.—Here is an improved means of holding rupture that has benefitted thousands of ruptured men and women in the last year.

Inconspicuous, without leg straps, elastic belts, body encircling springs or harsh pads, it has caused many to say, "I don't see how it holds so easy. I would not have believed, had I not tried it."

So comfortable—so easy to wear—it could show you the way to joyous freedom from your rupture trouble.

You can't lose by trying. It is sent to you on 30 days trial. You receive a $3.50 special truss as a present for your report.

Write for descriptive circular. It's free. Just address Physician's Appliance Company, 7118 Koch Bldg., 2906 Main, Kansas City 8, Missouri.

Programs on the Air

NBC commentator H. V. Kaltenborn will leave July 28 on a seven-week fact-finding trip around the world, it was announced recently by William F. Brooks, NBC vice president in charge of news and international relations.

During his absence, three of NBC's top commentators — Richard Harkness in Washington, Henry Cassidy in New York and Clifton Utley in Chicago—will be heard on the "Kaltenborn Edits the News" program Monday through Friday, 6:45 p. m., EST. Cassidy, NBC's European news director now in Paris, will return to the U. S. especially for his series of broadcasts.

Details of Kaltenborn's itinerary are being completed and will be announced soon. This will be his first world-girdling trip since the end of the war, during which he visited every fighting front on four separate journeys. His most recent fact-finding trip out of the country was last autumn, when he spent three weeks in Scandinavia and Germany.

James Melton will exhibit several ancient cars from his famous collection at the June 14-15 Atlantic City meetings of the Antique and Veteran Automobile groups. The singing star of NBC's "Harvest of Stars" also will serve as judge in the selection of Miss Atlantic City, 1947.

When Fred Allen celebrated his birthday recently, the cast of his show brought in a cake topped by figurines of Allen and the full cast, with a "Happy Birthday, Fred Allen" message from the DeMarco Sisters, and his likeness replying, "It isn't a vice president, kiddies, but let's all take a cut."

RESOLUTION NO. 3457

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE CLERK OF COUNCIL TO GIVE LEGAL NOTICE OF REVISED ESTIMATED ASSESSMENT FOR SEWER IMPROVEMENT BY CONSTRUCTING A SANITARY AND STORM WATER SEWER ON PATTEN ST. FROM GREENWOOD ST. TO THE ALLEY WEST OF PATTERSON ST.

WHEREAS, Council by Ordinance No. 4532 has determined that the sum necessary to construct a sanitary and storm water sewer on Patten St. from Greenwood St. to the alley west of Patterson St. of sufficient capacity to sewer the lots or lands to be assessed for said improvement, less two percent thereof, and the cost of intersections, shall be assessed by the foot front upon the following described lots and lands, bounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement, which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specially benefitted by said improvement, and

WHEREAS, written bids have been received by the Safety-Service Director for the improvement of Patten St. from Greenwood St. to the alley west of Patterson St. by constructing a sanitary and storm water sewer, and

WHEREAS, the lowest and best bids so received were in considerable amount in excess of the estimated assessments on file in the office of the City Clerk, as required by law.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Council of the City of Marion, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That the Clerk of Council of the City of Marion, Ohio, is hereby authorized and directed to give legal notice by publication, in accordance with Section No. 3895 of G. C. of said revised estimated assessment.

SECTION 2. That said notice shall be published for three consecutive weeks in the newspaper of general circulation in the City of Marion, Ohio, and shall state that the revised estimated assessment, on the foregoing improvement has been made by the City Engineer and is on file in the office of the City Clerk for inspection and examination of persons interested therein.

SECTION 3. That this Resolution is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and welfare of the citizens of Marion, Ohio, and as such shall take effect from and after the date of its passage.

RESOLUTION NO. 3455

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE CLERK OF COUNCIL TO GIVE LEGAL NOTICE OF REVISED ESTIMATED ASSESSMENT FOR SEWER IMPROVEMENT BY CONSTRUCTING A SANITARY SEWER ON PATTERSON ST. FROM MARK ST. TO PATTEN ST. AND AN OUTLET SECTION ON THE FIRST ALLEY NORTH OF MARK ST. FROM GREENWOOD ST. TO PATTERSON ST.

WHEREAS, Council in Ordinance No. 4531 has determined that the sum necessary to construct a sanitary sewer on Patterson St. from Mark St. to Patten St. and to construct an outlet section on the first alley north of Mark St. from Greenwood St. to Patterson St. of sufficient capacity to sewer the lots or lands to be assessed for said improvement, less two percent thereof, and the cost of intersections, shall be assessed by the foot front upon the following described lots and lands, to-wit: all lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement, which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specially benefitted by said improvement, and

WHEREAS, written bids have been received by the Safety-Service Director for the improvement of Patten St. from Mark St. to Patten St. by constructing a sanitary sewer and an outlet section on the first alley north of Mark St. from Greenwood St. to Patterson St. and

WHEREAS, the lowest and best bids so received were in considerable amount in excess of the estimated assessments on file in the office of the City Clerk, and

WHEREAS, the City Engineer has prepared a new estimate for the aforementioned improvements and placed said estimate on file in the office of the City Clerk, as required by law.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Council of the City of Marion, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That the Clerk of Council of the City of Marion, Ohio is hereby authorized and directed to give legal notice by publication in accordance with Section No. 3895 G. C. of said revised estimated assessment.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

My heart descended swiftly into my shoes as I saw Philip Veritzen, Mary's father-in-law, standing in the doorway of my sitting room.

There was an expression on his face which I knew well.

For years, I was Philip Veritzen's associate in his theatrical productions, and not only I, but every one else connected with him, knew that when that resolute determination showed in his handsome face, it was time, as one irreverent chap used to put it, for "everybody to get on their chain armor and dash for cover."

But I put down my tremors with an iron hand, and smiled a welcome at him.

"How nice to see you, Phil!" I greeted him. "Come in and sit down."

He bent over my hand, kissing it with his usual foreign courtliness, and put me into a chair before he took one himself.

"How is Mary" he asked, more directly than he is wont to speak. He is the past master of elaborate and ornate conversation.

"A trifle better this morning," I said warily, for I sensed, instinctively, the nature of his errand. He intended to see Mary, to ascertain for himself just how ill she was, and I knew from experience that he was a hard man to thwart.

Unflattered Incredulity

He looked at me with keen eyes in which there was distinct and unflattering incredulity.

"Only a trifle?" he asked. "From what Noel told me, I expected to find her well on the road to recovery."

"What did Noel tell you?" I asked him flatly, and was answered by what my young son would describe as a "dirty look."

"He said that Mary assured him, and you did also, that Mary was well on the way to recovery, and that it would be perfectly all right for Noel to go about his usual work in his profession, seeing her twice a day, once in the morning before he goes away, and again in the afternoon when he comes home."

He stopped and looked at me speculatively.

"Frankly," he said, "that does not seem to me to fit in with the version I have been given of Mary's illness. Now I have no wish to be discourteous, but I am sure you are just enough to realize that I resent strongly any attempt to pull the wool over my eyes."

"You surely do not believe that Madge is trying to do that, do you, Phil?" said Dicky's voice from the doorway, and I did not know whether to be rejoiced at the promise of aid, or of dismay at the prospect of a clash between the two men.

Would Smile and Bow

"Oh, good-morning, Dicky!" Phil said courteously. My husband frequently says that "Phil would smile and bow even as he thrust a rapier through you gizzard."

Then his voice deepened.

"I am not accusing Madge of anything," he said. "I am making a general statement. My resentment is directed chiefly toward Dr. Twitchell and Mrs. Bickett. I know the little ways of the medical and nursing professions"—and he smiled unpleasantly. "They will never concede a patient is better until the convalescence is complete."

"I'm afraid I'm a bit in the dark," Dicky said, and I realized with relief that the was bidding for time. "Won't one of you explain?"

I kept demurely silent, and Philip Veritzen began to speak, a bit pompously.

Terribly Shocked

"It is just this," he said. "Last night I was told Mary was so mentally ill that you were afraid she contemplated suicide. I was terribly shocked, of course, and at once insured the protection of bars, and agreed not to bother her with my presence, although, of course, I felt that as her producer, as well as her father-in-law, I should be permitted to see her and judge of her condition myself as soon as possible."

I was as sure that Dicky was mentally referring to the famous producer as "a pompous old turkey-buzzard," as I was that I was sitting on the edge of my chair waiting to hear the end of Phil's tirade, for that was really what it was.

"Then this morning," he went on, "Noel came back from here in the highest spirits. He said that Mary appeared infinitely better, that she had urged him to go back to his work, and that Madge had assured him it was perfectly safe for him to go, because Mary really was much better.

"It seems a remarkable recovery to me," he finished, "and I think I am justified in demanding to see her."

INTERESTING HISTORY

Editor of The Star — I was very much interested in the story of the new three-cent stamp. The title of the story is "Famous Painting on Stamp." It was in the Friday Star. Have often admired the picture but knew no history of it, but will think more of it by having a history of it.
